aving agencies in all the principal cities and towns in the United States, through which it is in receipt of a large annual income from Fire Premiums, without heavy concentration of lines, at Home or abroad, thus enabling it to

UARANTEE FULL INDEMNITY TO PATRONS

The FIREMAN'S FUND of California has been thoroughly tested in the greatest fires of odern history. In the great CHICAGO FIRE (1871) this Company sustained and honorably aid a loss of OVER HALF A MILLION DOLLARS, and the next year, at BOSTON, paid $158,000, the great fire in that city. The Company paid $126,000 in the great VIRGINIA CITY FIRE 1875). Its losses paid in the first seventeen years of its existence

Aggregate $3,940,056.86.

The INSURANCE MONITOR (New York) for June 1877, says: "The FIREMAN'S FUND has, by its promptness o pay losses, large and small, by the high character of its managerial talent, and by its fidelity to the best principles of Underwriting, reached a commanding position among the Insurance Companies of the country. With the public, its policies rank with those of the best English and American Companies.

VENTILATORS

Are the only Chimneys where Bands and Filling can be used to make a Smoke and Air-Tight Joint, and with Iron Rods or Strapped to the Building.

The U. S. Circuit Court has granted me a perpetual injunction against L. E. Clawson and Jos. S. Brown. All persons are cautioned against using any improvement in Sectional Chimneys patented by me.

Browell's Patent Chimneys can be placed in any part of the house, or attached to the outside of any building, with perfect safety.

They are now in use in the best buildings of San Francisco and Oakland, and have been highly approved and recommended by the Board of Supervisors, and by the leading architects of the State.

They are made of Fire Clay, without brick or mortar. No decay to them, no danger, no repairing, no dirt, no trouble, perfect ventilation, and are cheap, light, and portable; are Fire and Earthquake proof.

PROGRESS OF THE CITY

CURRENT HISTORY.

SAN FRANCISCO, the youngest of America's great cities, has a history, which, though brief in its course of years, is a succession of rapidly occurring incidents, threading the romantic and marvelous, where the staid commonplaces of other lands seldom appear. The exact date of settlement, or founding, may be claimed for the time when the site of the Mission was first selected by Portala and Crespi in 1769; or when the Mission and Presidio were established by the good Friars Palou and Cambon in 1776; or when Richardson, in 1835, located here and established a trading post, calling the place Yerba Buena; or when Vioget, in 1839, surveyed the ground into streets and squares; or when in 1847, the Americans in possession, resurveyed and enlarged the area, and gave the name of San Francisco. A mediæval obscurity surrounds its early settlement and progress. The religious spirit of the middle ages, even to a late date in the eighteenth century, still governing the Spanish people, prompted its devotees to penetrate the wild regions of the new world to spread the doctrines of the Church, and gather the heathen under its care rather than to enlarge the sphere of human liberties or pursue wealth by extending commerce or developing the resources of the country.

Under such auspices was the site of the City selected and occupied, thus giving in the brief period of a century, an ancient character to its history, advancing with a bound as it sprang from Spanish to American rule—from the semi-civilized past to the enlightenment and activity of modern times. The peculiar features of the City were not obliterated by the change. Ancient and simple as it was in its origin it has become the most busy and cosmopolitan of the age. Every State of the Union has its representative, and from every quarter of the globe have come its citizens; the language of every commercial people is spoken; every color which the human visage bears is seen, and every religion has its worshippers. These characteristics of cosmopolitanism distinguish the modern city from its sisters as did its mediæval features of early years from the settlements of the Atlantic Coast.

The very name of California was the invention of the novelist's brain, it being first found in the ancient romance entitled "Las Sergas del Muy Esforzado Esplandian higo del excelente re Amadis de Gaula," by Garcia Ordonez de Montalvo, published in 1510. Here it is represented as an island, saying "Know that, on the right hand of the Indies, very near the Terrestrial Paradise, there is an island called California, which is peopled with black women, without any men among them, because they are accustomed to live after the manner of the Amazons." To seek this fabled "island called California" was the object of several voyages undertaken by Cortez and his adventurous followers. Lower California was first discovered, and in 1539 its true character as a peninsula was determined by the explorations of Francisco de Ulloa. In 1542 the coast was explored as far north as Punta de los Reyes by Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, and on March 3d, 1543, Bartolomo Ferrelo, pilot and successor of Cabrillo, sailing down the coast, reported seeing the opening to the bay, now called the "Golden Gate," but he did not enter. This is the earliest mention of any indications of the Bay of San Francisco, although the bays of San Diego and Monterey and other landings and points had been particularly described. Sir Francis Drake anchored and refitted his ships in 1579, as he reports, in a "faire good day," which was "within thirty-eight degrees of latitude of the line," and a semi-circular bay is delineated on the old maps under that latitude, and called Sir Fran- Drake's Bay. While many contend that the bay mentioned by Drake is identical with that San Francisco, his account of it is so meagre and incorrect that he is not entitled to the nor of being called its discoverer. This honor is now accorded to Gaspar de Portala, who, command of a party from San Diego, proceeding by land to Monterey, missed their destin- on, and in 1769 came upon the great bay, and upon its western shore selected the site for a ission, now the Mission Dolores. On the 27th of June, 1776, the site was taken possession by a party arriving by land from Monterey. [See Randolph Lecture, page 283.] The Golden Gate, however, from the best information, was first entered on the 18th day of August, 1776, by an expedition led by Francisco Palou and Benito Cambon, two monks of the order of St. Francis de Assissi, who founded the Mission on the site previously selected by Portala. On the following day a party of soldiers under command of Don Jose Moraga established themselves at the Presidio, and this was the beginning of permanent residence by civilized people on the peninsula now occupied by the great City of San Francisco. The old Mission Church, erected shortly after the occupation, still stands a revered monument of the past, and proof against the destructive elements of time and of the earthquakes to which the country is subject, and which have so unnecessarily frightened away many timid people. After the secularization of the Missions in 1833 the Pueblo of Yerba Buena was created, and in 1835 the first business house was established by William A. Richardson, an Englishman, who had previously been located at Saucelito, and in whose honor Richardson's Bay is so called. The first mercantile house was erected on what is now called Dupont Street, between Clay and Washington. In 1839 Captain John Vioget, by order of Governor Alvarado, surveyed the town into streets and squares, though without giving them names. This was the nucleus of the present city. Then its boundaries were the bay, flowing to Montgomery street on the east, the base of Telegraph Hill, or Broadway, on the north, California street on the south, and Powell street on the west. The surroundings were rugged hills and sand dunes covered with dense chapparal of live oak shrubs, holly and lupin, and so it continued until the occupation by the Americans in 1846. On the 8th of July, 1846, Commander Montgomery of the sloop of war Portsmouth, then lying in the harbor, took possession of the place in the name of the United States, and raised the flag of his country upon the Plaza, since called Portsmouth Square, in honor of the ship he commanded. In January following, 1847, under the direction of the same officer, the site was resurveyed, a large city was laid out, the names of prominent actors upon the scene, officers of the army and navy, and citizens of the little village, were given to its streets, and the name changed to SAN FRANCISCO.

On the 31st of July, shortly after the raising of the flag, the ship Brooklyn, from New York, arrived in the harbor, having on board 238 immigrants, of whom all but twelve were Mormons, under the leadership of Samuel Brannan, coming to found a new colony on the wild western shore of the continent. Great was their surprise, not to say dismay, when they beheld the Stars and Stripes waving over the town, and the Americans in possession, where they had expected to find a strange people, and where they had hoped to found their colony and church undisturbed and untrammeled by the customs and laws of the country they had left. This was an important and opportune accession to the English speaking population, and assisted materially in establishing institutions of law. order and progress in the new community. Mr. Brannan being a printer, and having brought with him the material for an office, set it up, and on the 9th of January, 1847, published the first number of the California Weekly Star, the pioneer paper of the new city. The name was afterwards changed to Alta California.

The next important arrival was on the 6th of March, when the bark Thomas H. Perkins came in with the first detachment of a regiment of volunteers from New York, under command of Colonel Jonathan D. Stevenson. The other detachments on the barks Susan Drew and Loo Choo soon after arrived, and the young men of whom the regiment was composed were distributed throughout the country. With these the new city assumed a full American aspect, and looked hopefully forward when the whaling fleets of the "Northwest Coast" should rendezvous in its harbor, and the sturdy American farmer succeeding the unenterprising ranchero should make it the center of trade. But a fate was in store far brighter than the most vivid imagination had dared to picture. The treaty of Guadalupe Hildago, whereby Mexico conceded to the United States the right of possession to California, had hardly been agreed upon when, on the 19th of January, 1848, James W. Marshall made the discovery of gold at Coloma, the news of which soon spread over the world, opening a new era in commerce, and attracting all eyes to the young metropolis of the Pacific. A few months previously a census had been taken by Lieutenant Edward Gilbert, of Stevenson's regiment, showing a population of four hundred and fifty-nine, and one hundred and fifty-seven houses, of which one-fourth were adobes, the remainder being mere shanties. From this date San Francisco may be regarded as having its start. An alcalde, Mr. Washington A. Bartlett, had been elected, and the government was organized in a mixed Spanish and American fashion.

With the acquisition of the country it became necessary to establish mail communication with the Atlantic States and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company was organized, aided by a liberal contract from Congress. The route was from New York to Portland, Oregon, via Panama, with San Francisco as a wayport, but the gold discoveries following changed the plan, and this became the principal Pacific port of the line. In March, 1849, the California, the first steamer of the line, arrived, and since then the commerce of the city has advanced with gigantic strides. A State government was organized by the adoption of a Constitution and the election of officers under it. These assembled at San Jose in December, 1849. The State was divided into counties, that of San Francisco comprising the peninsula south of the Golden Gate, extending to Santa Clara County. A charter was granted the City, and in May, 1850, unicipal government went into power. Events of importance now followed each other in l succession. The marvellous growth of the City, the great fires of 1850 and 1851, the nt deeds and rigid reforms of the Vigilance Committee of 1856, the mining excitements other catastrophes, scenes and incidents of a most interesting period must be passed without further notice. In April, 1856, the Consolidation Act," prepared by Horace Hawes, was ed, giving the City a new charter, consolidating the City and County Governments in one. greater portion of the territory was formed into the County of San Mateo, the dividing ne being the U. S. land survey of the line separating townships two and three south of Mount iablo base and Meridian. The Farallone, Angel, Alcatraz and Goat Islands are included in an Francisco City and County. The boundaries are the Golden Gate on the north, the Bay San Francisco on the east, San Mateo County on the south, and the Pacific Ocean on the est. The land area is 42 square miles, or 26,880 acres. Under the well guarded provisions f the Consolidation Act the City has been well governed and protected from contracting inebtedness, so that its public finances are in a condition unsurpassed by any city in the nion. The discovery of silver-bearing ores on the eastern slope of the Sierra Nevada in 59–60 enlarged the area of business and gave new life to the place. In 1869, one hundred ears from the discovery of the Bay by Portala, the great Pacific Railroad was completed and ew era begun. For many years prior to the acquisition of California by the United States e turning of the India trade, as all the South Sea and Pacific commerce was called, across e American continent had been a favorite theme with prominent statesmen, and with such arbor as that of San Francisco in our possession the consummation of this grand idea emed at hand. For this the trans-continental railroad was necessary, and to it have been lded lines of mammoth steamers concentrating at this port, and the hoped for channel of mmerce has become a fixed fact. Railroads have been constructed in every direction roughout the State, there being an aggregate of 2,250 miles, centering the traffic in this city.

Trade and Commerce.

The annual review of the commerce of this port shows a general increase of business, notithstanding the universal complaint of hard times. Our report for 1878 showed the exports merchandise by sea amounted to $34,155,400, and by rail $22,329,671, and of treasure, 34,287,293.

From Custom House reports and compilations by the Commercial Herald we find that ring 1879 the merchandise exports by sea amounted to $36,564,328, and of treasure $26,-8,172. The exports by rail have been very large, but the value is not ascertainable. In e exports of merchandise we have an increase of $2,408,928, and a decrease of treasure ported of $8,069,121. The freight movement by the Central Pacific Railroad was 3,030,-7,000 pounds, and by the Southern Pacific, 367,812,845 pounds. The number of vessels tering the Golden Gate during the year 1879 was 3,600, with 1,609,530 tons of tonnage; ing a decrease of 103 vessels and 69,935 tons from 1878. From domestic, Atlantic and reign ports there arrived 500 ships with an aggregate of 612,615 tons. The amount of eight money paid to said vessels for imports was $2,461,266, against $3,510,782 in 1878, and ,422,937 in 1877. The value of imports in 1879 was $34,124,417. The amount paid at the ustom House for duties on imports in 1879 was $5,528,548. The amount collected in the irst District of the Internal Revenue, 1879, was $2,115,024. Total, $7,643,572.

The imports of coffee during the year aggregated 13,694,860 pounds. On hand at the ginning of the year, 2,999,840 pounds; on hand at the end of the year, 2,313,374 pounds; ipped east by rail, 2,831,755 pounds; consumption for the year, 11,549,571 pounds. The ports of tea during 1879 were 19,977,672 pounds, of the value of $6,324,982.

The large proportions which the industry of sugar refining has assumed on this Coast is st shown by the following, which exhibits the total imports received at the port of San arcisco during the last ten years closing with 1879. The table also exhibits the amount ught from the various ports which, in the matter of Raw Sugars, have been tributary to is Coast. Manila, which represents the Phillipine Islands, ranks highest in the total, and e Sandwich Islands next, with but a slight difference between them. But the relative imance of the Sandwich Islands is constantly increasing, and that group has filled the leading e among our sources of supply for several years past. The large import from the Philli- Islands was mainly in the early years of the refining business. Last year, the importas from the Sandwich Islands were more than twenty times as great as those from Manila. ican and Central American Sugars will in all probability make a much larger display n a few years, as American planters are turning their attention towards those regions. the proper energy on the part of our business men, the bulk of the Raw Sugars of the e Islands of Mexico and Central America should, and doubtless will, find their way to s Coast for refining he imports of Raw Sugars from 1870 to 1879, inclusive, were: Manila, 205,775,814 lbs; aiian, 204,187,706 lbs; China, 75,929,343 lbs; Batavian, 61,050,605 lbs; Peruvian, 30,446,733 Central American, 24,362,928 lbs; East Indies, 4,402,605 lbs; Mexican, 2,079,146 lbs; itian, 294,428 lbs. Total 608,529,308 lbs.

At the average price of 9 cents per pound, this shows a valuation of nearly $55,000,000 for a period of only ten years. There has been a steady upward growth and healthy development of this industry.

The treasure receipts through Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express was $56,256,017, being $49,033,911 from the interior mines; $1,607,778 coastwise, north and south; and $5,614,328 foreign. Of the receipts from the interior mines, $18,150,479 was in silver bullion, $15,047,085 gold bars, etc., and $15,836,350 in coin. The gold product of the Pacific Coast since 1848 is $1,622,040,000, and the silver $446,625,000, a total of $2,068,665,000. The mining stock sales (San Francisco Stock and Exchange Board) aggregated $70,119,700. Real estate sales, $10,350,000. The value of manufactures, $40,000,000. Dividends from mines paid here, $6,778,750; and in the East and London, $4,527,300.

The receipts of coal were: From Mount Diablo mines, 134,400 tons; Coos Bay, 45,900 tons; Seattle, 135,000 tons; Atlantic States, 23,500 tons; Vancouvers Island, 160,000 tons; Australia, 80,200 tons; Europe, 36,600 tons; a total of 618,500 tons, being 8,000 tons less than the amount received the preceding year. The wheat product of 1879 was 22,400,000 centals; and barley 6,000,000 centals. The wool clip was 46,900,000 pounds; the wine product estimated at from 5,500,000 to 8,000,000 gallons; the lumber receipts, 225,000,000 feet; and the quicksilver, 73,684 flasks. Wheat and flour exported in 1879, 12,074,997 centals. The value of all domestic products exported by sea in 1879, excepting treasure, was $29,521,893.

The passenger arrivals in San Francisco in 1879 by ocean routes and through passengers arriving overland aggregate 49,153, while the departures were 39,676; showing a net gain of 9,477, being the smallest net gain in many years. The arrivals by land numbered 36,389; departures, 25,010. The arrivals by sea numbered 12,764; departures, 14,666. Of the passengers by sea, 2,150 came by the Panama steamers, and 1,500 took their departure by the same route. The Chinese steamers, and ships from Hong Kong brought us 6,545, and took away 6,906. The other arrivals were from Australia, New Zealand, British Columbia, Mexico, and the South Sea Islands. Since the completion of the trans-continental railroad, 472,811 passengers have arrived by that route, and 280,863 have departed, giving us an increase of 191,948 to our population from that source.

City and County Finances.

Few cities of the world show a better financial condition than does San Francisco. By direction of the Board of Supervisors the following statement was prepared for the State Controller, giving an exhibit of financial affairs on the 6th of October, 1879:

The assessed valuation of property was: Real estate and improvements, $190,389,410; personal property, $54,246,350; total $244,635,760. The rate of taxation for State, City and County was $2 24 on the $100. The amount of taxes collected from real estate and improvements was $4,203.423 35, and from personal property $795,456 02, and from penalties, back taxes, Montgomery Avenue and Dupont Street taxes, $454,656 71.

The Treasurer's Report gives the transactions during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1879, and the state of the finances at the latter mentioned date: Balance at credit of City and County of San Francisco, $475,771 24; Receipts during the year, $6,775,518 08—Total, $7,251,289 32. Demands paid during the year, $5,528,352 71; Balance, $1,722,936 61, accredited to the various Funds. Balance at credit of State of California June 30, 1878, $8,940 89; Receipts to credit of the State during the year, $1,287,842 55—Total, $1,296,783 44. Settlement with Controller of State during the year, $1,296,140 12. Balance, $643 32.

The Auditor's Report gives the amount of demands audited during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1879, $5,103,398 65. The total demands audited on the New City Hall Fund from date of present Commission to July 1st, 1879, $1,152,835 10. Audited for furniture, $15,000. Among the amounts audited are: City and County Officers' salaries, $532,594 74; Police Officers' salaries, $433,848 39; Fire Department salaries, $188,080 00; other expenses of Fire Department, $112,098 06; City and County Hospital, $93,992 75; Alms House, $59,518 13; Industrial School, $51,177 68; House of Correction, $62,113 75; Training Ship "Jamestown," $29,481 66; Registration and Election Expenses, $56,114 19; Purchase of Mission and Ocean Beach Toll Road, $28,730; Purchase of San Francisco and Point Lobos Toll Road, $26,587; School Department, other than salary of Superintendent and Deputy, and interest account and sinking funds, $810,173 39; Lighting streets and repairs of lamp-posts and lamps, $248,322 99; Damages by rioters, $2,818 95; Street Department expenses other than salaries of Superintendent and Deputies, $471,890 91; Interest on Funded Debt, $283,246 66; New City Hall demands for fiscal year 1878–79, $343,907 22. Loans from Sinking Fund fiscal year 1878–79, $413,500; Bonds redeemed, fiscal year 1878-79, $116,303 15. The estimated expenditure for the year 1879–80, $4,033,407 00.

The Report of the Superintendent of Streets says it has been the constant aim of this department to keep its expenses within the limits prescribed by law, and it is now in a condition to commence the next fiscal year free from debt, and for the first time knows positively the exact condition of its finances. $260,000 of indebtedness accruing previous to the last fiscal year was paid from the Street Fund. The principal work done has been by day's labor, instead of by contract, and, while the cost is a little more, the superiority of the work proves the advantage of the system. The Superintendent recommends the disuse of cobbles for pavement on level streets, replacing the same with basalt or granite blocks. The experiments of the past year fully illustrates that we have on this peninsula rock that will make first-class macadam. With streets thus prepared, well watered and kept in order, no city could present better suburban driveways than San Francisco. "The construction of a driveway along Tyler street to Golden Gate Park. when completed, will make it one of the best roadways on the continent. Taking Tyler street as a line east and west, and Van Ness avenue north and south, crossing Market street, connecting with some main street leading to the county line, and north connecting with some main street to the Presidio, would be a credit to the city, and offer inducements for people of wealth and leisure to reside among us, instead of seeking residences in neighboring towns and cities." The cost of work done in fiscal year 1878-79, as per assessment records, was $699,793 19. The amount drawn from the Street Department Fund was $398,079 76. The total length of sewers constructed from July 1856 to July 1878 was 119.6 miles, and from July 1878 to July 1879 4.8 miles, making a total of sewers of 124.4 miles.

Registration of Votes.

By an Act passed by the Legislature of 1878, the office of Registrar of Voters was created for the City and County of San Francisco, and Mr. Louis Kaplan was appointed Registrar. In his Report to the Board of Supervisors, dated October 27, 1879, he gives the number of names on the Ward Registers, and the number of votes cast for the years as follows: 1875, registered, 33,848; votes cast, 25,653; 1876, registered, 46,671; votes, 41,646; 1877, registered, 52,004; votes, 33,663; 1878, registered, 37,915; votes, 27,098; 1879, special election, registered, 47,740; votes, 38,034; general election, registered, 44,765; votes, 41,612. In the Registration of 1876 are contained 12,226 names of persons to whom certificates of registration were given that were not in the printed copies furnished to the public. A great many names of persons deceased, or not residents of San Francisco, were stricken from the Register of 1877 by the Election Commissioners, and, in 1879, preparatory to the special election on the New Constitution, the Register was thoroughly revised. In January, 1879, there were registered 37,915 names, of whom 16,809 were of natives of the United States, and 21,106 foreign born. Of the natives 4,500 were born in New York, 2,573 in Massachusetts, 1,489 in California, 1,294 in Maine, and 1,194 in Pennsylvania. Of the foreign-born 10,000 were from Ireland, 5,630

Real Estate.

Every year in San Francisco's history shows some progress—some years bounding forward on the high tide of prosperity, and in others exhibiting extreme feebleness; but 1879 has shown the least for a long period. Building, real-estate sales and prices, and general business seem governed by periods of excitement originating from various causes. The first excitement and forward bound came with the discovery of gold and continued until 1853, when a halt was made, and in 1855 houses and lots in many quarters were selling for less than the costs of the buildings. The Fraser River excitement followed, threatening for a time to depopulate the city, and dull times continued until the discovery of the silver mines of Nevada in 1859–60. These soon began pouring in their treasures; building up iron foundries, machine shops, transportation lines, factories of all kinds, and giving renewed life to the city. The great bullion product of the contributory region; the war of the rebellion, and the greenback currency of the East—making such a demand for gold and silver—added greatly to our wealth. The building of the Central Pacific and other railroads causing the disbursement of vast sums of money, carried on our period of prosperity, and the real-estate excitement to its culmination as the transcontinental road was finished in 1869. A period of stagnation in real-estate prices followed, and, with the exception of certain localities, prices have not advanced during the decade. While the decade, in its whole, has shown great prosperity and grand improvements resulting from the inpouring of hundreds of milllons of bullion, and the countless centals of wheat and other products of the farms, the closing years have felt a depression that has been severe upon nearly all classes of business. The positive determination of the Eastern financiers to return to specie payments was undoubtedly a great factor in the causes creating "hard times;" but this having been successfully accomplished, the upward flow of the tide has commenced. The state of business at the East is soon felt here. The first intimation of an advance we have is in the advance in prices of all classes of merchandise we import, which is rather unpleasant, and it is only by the return wave bringing us capital and advanced prices for our property and products that we are benefitted. The greater prosperity is assured by the favorable rains of the season of 1879–80, as well as the continued productiveness of the mines and the extension of the mining area. Although there are no great bonanzas, such as existed in the California and Consolidated Virginia mines of the Comstock, now swelling the stream of wealth, there are many mines in all parts of California and the surrounding States and Territories that are most profitably worked, keeping up the supply of bullion in return for manufactures, merchandise, labor, capital, etc., of which this city is the center of supply. While this is maintained as such center, with judiciously-employed capital and wide-awake enterprise, with its high reputation for its mining machinery and manufactures continued, and with cheap transportation, the lasting progress and future greatness of the city is assured. Mining, occasionally very profitable, being a great employer of labor, and the greatest of consumers of manufactures, adds more to the prosperity of the city than any other branch of enterprise, while agriculture aggregates the wealth of the country. Much has been said of the evils of stock gambling—and truly they are enormous—but the difficulties of suppressing it, without prohibiting stock dealing of all kinds, seems insurmountable. The dealing in mining stocks implies the ownership of mines, and the ownership directs the distribution of profits, the purchase of supplies, and the employment of labor. Should the stock business be driven to New York, the ownership of the great mines will follow, carrying thither the enormous trade in manufactures and supplies we now enjoy, resulting in irretrievable loss to San Francisco. The Real Estate Circular, published by Thomas Magee, contains very full and interesting facts and figures touching real-estate sales in 1879, the prospect for 1880, etc. We extract therefrom as follows: Our record for real-estate transactions in San Francisco began in 1865, since which time there has not been so dull a year as 1879. The year that most closely approached 1879 in this respect was 1873, at the close of which the city was just emerging from the four years' depression which succeeded the completion of the railroad. The sales made in 1873 were 3,134, of the value of $12,383,752, while those of last year were but 2,217, of the value of $10,318,744. Of the deeds recorded in 1873, 541 were old homestead association sales made three to seven years before, but which were not closed till that year. They were recorded in 1873, but did not in any other way belong to it. The deduction of those homestead sales in 1873 from the total figures of that year, would reduce the number and value of the sales to about exactly the transactions of 1879. We think 1879 resembled 1873 in one other respect: the depression which prevailed for the previous four and a half years ended with 1873. We think the prospect is good that 1879 at least measurably ended the depression which has prevailed for over four years in real estate. We do not by any means anticipate what is called a "boom" in real-estate in 1880, nor any approach thereto, but we look for a desirable increase in the number of sales and in the general prices of property. We base these expectations largely on the very good prospect we now have of a full rainfall this winter. We had good crops last year; there is every likelihood that we will e even better crops and more of them this year. The State and coast are growing rapidly n agricultural sense, while there never was a time in which there was more honest and telligent development of the mining resources of this State. We do not look for real-estate vity based, as that of the last period largely was, on stock-gambling; the next advance be based on honest and intelligent development, growth, and progress, and we here take casion to say that any increase of real-estate sales that is not based on these elements is ound and but temporary, inducing foolish buyers to incur debt and to buy property at igh prices, only to be subsequently compelled to sacrifice or to lose it through foreclosure of ortgage, when the reaction and depression come, as come they always do, one, two, and hree years thereafter.

General prices have not been so low in San Francisco for a great many years as they were 1879. There was an average fall from even the low prices of 1878 of at least 10 per cent: Ve were able at the close of 1878 to point to a few places where sales had been made at gher rates than any ever before paid, but we cannot point to a single district of the city in hich prices advanced in 1879, while in a few places at North Beach, below Folsom, and etween First and Ninth streets, and on the flat east of Howard street, at the Mission, many sales ere made at exceedingly low prices. Indeed, in some of these places it has been next to impossible to say what land would bring, buyers have been so scarce. Nor did even reductions 20 to 40 per cent. always result in attracting customers and the making of sales. Inside usiness property alone held its own firmly last year, and only property lying between Kearny, ront, California and Market streets, well rented, was recognized as inside property in 1879. For roperty in that region there has been far more buyers than sellers, especially within four onths. Owners were not offered fancy prices, and they have generally refused to sell. Much usiness property that would have been looked upon as at least A 2 four years ago hung upon e market in 1879. We include in this list property on Third street, between Market and ission, on Fourth street, between Market and Howard, on Market street, between Fifth and eventh, on Market street, between Battery and the ferries, on Kearny street, between California and Clay, and on Front street, between Sacramento and Washington. From these cts it will be seen that buyers sought only the very choicest business properties, and as wners of such real estate did not care to sell, not knowing what to do with their money, e number of business sales effected in 1879 was not large.

There was very little demand, indeed, for expensive residence property, either vacant or nproved. The price of the best class of such property is now thought by owners to be decidedly low, though it ranges at $200 to $300 a front foot.

Considering the great dullness in real estate, there was a very fair and constant demand r lots at $1,000 to $3,000, and for houses and lots at $3,000 to $5,000. The Western Addion, between Clay, Post, and say Laguna and Pierce streets, was most in demand. Next to at the Mission was most sought after, especially along Valencia, Mission and Howard, or e cross streets close to those thoroughfares, between Sixteenth and Twenty-fourth. An alost new town has within a year or so sprang up at the southwestern outskirts of the Mison, between Twenty-fifth, Thirtieth, Guerrero and Sanchez streets. The buyers and builders ere all people of small means.

The building of the new bulkhead and the grading of the sand hills on Polk, Van Ness venue and Bay street, together with the consolidation of the two new woolen mills and the ection of a very large additional mill at Black Point, will all tend to benefit North Beach. he section of it lying betwen Jones, Van Ness avenue, Bay street and the bay will probably e in demand for cheap lots and houses before long; but before such demand can be supplied e streets will have to be opened, by grading and macadamizing. They are now all, or nearly ll, in drifting sand.

Transactions in outside lands were very dull in 1879, yet there never was a time when ey had such good prospects. The promised Presidio railroad on the north, the Haight street e railroad on the south, and the California and Geary street cable railroads in the center, l make communication with First avenue and the Cliff House road, with the Presidio, and ith Stanyan and Haight streets as cheap and rapid as can reasonably be desired. There will no crowding, either; on these cable lines seats can be had at all times. All who want p homesteads can now or can soon be accommodated, at lower prices than those prevailg across the bay.

The amount of business done in the loaning of money on city real estate shows a much ger reduction than that exhibited by the sales. The sum of $24,367,773 was loaned on city l estate in 1877; $15,643,957 in 1878, and but $9,555,904 in 1879. The releases of last year unted to $10,343,174; so that they exceeded the mortgages by $387,270. In 1877, the ses amounted to only about half the total sum of the mortgages. Building enterprise ed, and real estate speculation was dead. Dullness and distrust prevailed, and therefore persons wished to borrow money, although it was cheaper than it was ever before known he history of the city. Now, and for the past five months, the leading savings bank Hibernia) has been loaning at 8 per cent. per year, it agreeing to pay the mortgage tax, ch will consume 1⅞ or 2 per cent. of the 8. This is practically loaning money at 6 per t., which for California is certainly a low rate; but, indeed, it is high enough, all things considered. He who pays more than that rate now, with the reduction of rents and profits of every kind, is likely to come to grief. The other banks are getting 9 where they can, but they let no good loan slip where 8 per cent. is the highest rate they can obtain; indeed, in one case, at least, one of them accepted 7¾ per cent., though 8 per cent. was called for on the face of the note. The present prospect is that money will be cheaper rather than dearer.

The directors of our savings banks never had so difficult a task to perform as they had in 1879. It was next to impossible to loan out on mortgage all, or nearly all, the money on hand, and added to that was the difficulty of estimating values precisely in many portions of the city, on such a dull real estate market. The greatest care and caution were generally exhibited, however, and it may safely be asserted that our savings banks never invested their depositors' money so wisely as in 1879. The point aimed at by all of the banks was to loan little on property and to loan cheap; thus safety for the depositors and satisfaction to the borrowers was attained.

SPECIAL SALES AND ITEMS.

It is reported that the block, 275 feet square only, bounded by Union, Filbert, Battery and Front, with the exception of the southeast corner of Battery and Filbert (120 on Battery by 50 on Filbert), and with the exception of the northwest corner of Union and Front (125 on Union by 70 on Front), has been sold to a new sugar refinery company, lately incorporated in this city. The price paid is said to be $55,000.

The property southwest corner of Sutter and Jones—57½ feet on Sutter by 122½ on Jones, with L in rear on west 22x25—has been sold for $45,000. There is a fine residence on the lot; the most of the furniture in the house went with the property.

The property southeast side Market street, 150 feet northeast of Seventh, 75x90 in size, has been sold for $55,000—that is, for $54,000 and the taxes of 1879–80, amounting to about $900. There is an old one-story frame building on the lot, in stores; the rents are nominal.

The property north side California, 87⅝ feet east of Montgomery, has been sold for $42,500. The lot is 25x114¼; there is a three-story brick building on it, rented to one tenant for $500 a month.

The lot and old frame building on the southwest line of Steuart street, 181¼ feet northwest of Howard, 46⅞x137½ in size, have been sold for $9,000; rents $90; very cheap.

The plain small two-story brick building and lot, 23x60, north side Geary street, 160½ feet east of Stockton, have been sold for $16,000; the building is occupied as the Health Office. It rents for $125 net to the city. The property is just outside the Dupont street assessment. Had that plaster been upon it, it would not probably have sold for over $12,000 or $13,000. The adjoining lot on the west, used as a coal yard, has since been sold for $15,000.

From the Architectural Review we learn that several new residences, costing from $5,000 to $20,000, are in course of erection, or will soon be commenced. In addition to these, the following buildings have been erected during the past year: Engine and car house for the Geary Street, Park and Ocean R. R. Co., corner Point Lobos and First avenues; cost, $5,500. Armory building, one-story brick, corner Mission and Anthony streets. Four story brick building for Robert Sherwood, junction Pine and Market streets; cost, $100,000. Two-story brick building for William Sharon, corner Jessie and New Montgomery streets; cost, $38,000; to be occupied by the U. S. Government. Pioneer Woolen Mill building, North Point; cost, $95,000; and Woolen Mill for Donald McLennan, corner Bryant avenue and Twentieth street.

Public Buildings.

THE CUSTOM HOUSE is located in the brick building on the corner of Washington and Battery streets, erected in 1855, at a cost of $866,000. The operations of this important department of the public service are referred to under the article Trade and Commerce.

THE UNITED STATES MINT.—Among the Government buildings of San Francisco the United States Mint is among the most elegant and imposing. It is built of granite and sandstone, and conveniently situated at the northwest corner of Mission and Fifth streets, with a frontage of one hundred and sixty and one-half feet on the former and two hundred and seventeen and one-half feet on the latter. It is two stories in height, besides an ample basement. The parapet walls are fifty-six feet high, the pediment seventy-five, and its two chimneys, each one hundred and forty-two feet. Its architecture is Doric. Massive fluted columns at the main entrance on Fifth street give to the building an air of beauty and grandeur, and relieve the sombre aspect of its severe simplicity. The coinage during the year 1879 was as follows: Gold—double eagles, $24,476,000; eagles, $2,240,000; half eagles, $2,131,000; quarter eagles, $108,750. Silver—standard dollars, $9,110,000. Total, $38,065,750. In 1878 the total coinage at the San Francisco Mint was $50,186,500. Large amounts of half and trade dollars were then coined. It has a capacity of about one million ounces per month. The present Superintendent of the Mint, Mr. Henry L. Dodge, entered upon his duties January 1, 1878.

THE UNITED STATES SUB-TREASURY is a substantial four-story structure on Commercial street, near Montgomery, on the land formerly occupied by the old Mint. It was constructed er the superintendence of Mr. Samuel McCullough, and is on a plan of architecture similar hat of the United States Appraiser's Building. The walls are built of pressed brick laid granite sills. The building was completed early in the Autumn of 1877, and was trans- ed to the Sub-Treasury Department October 8th of that year. The amount appropri- for its construction was $107,000. The first floor is occupied by the Sub-Treasury; the nd by the Register and Receiver of the General Land Office; the third and fourth by he United States Surveyor-General

The United States Appraiser's Building occupies the grounds bounded by Washington, Sansome, Jackson and Post Office Place. It is a solid and handsome four-story structure of two hundred and sixty-five and one-half feet on Sansome, by one hundred and twenty and one-half feet on Jackson and Washington. The building was constructed under the superintendence of Mr. Samuel McCullough, Superintendent of Construction of United States Buildings in California, and his successor, Mr. Thomas Holt. The total expenditures upon it to date has been about $805,000. The first floor will be occupied by the Collector of Internal Revenue, the Superintending Surgeon of the Marine Hospital, Special Agents of the Treasury Department, the Naval Pay Office, the Secret Service Division, U. S. Revenue Marine, and Steamboat Inspectors, and one-half of the entire floor as a store-room for Appraiser's stores. All Appraiser's goods will be received from Post Office place. The second floor will be devoted to the Appraiser's Department, and the offices of the Coast and Geodetic Survey. The third floor will be occupied by the United States Circuit and District Courts, United States Marshal, District Attorney and Law Library. The fourth floor is unfinished, and will probably be occupied by jury rooms, file rooms for the Treasury Department, and the United States Signal Service. The ceilings are all lathed with Dwight's patent iron lathing; standing water pipes run from basement to roof, and corporation hose in ample quantity is kept on the roof as a precaution against fires.

The Post Office occupies the first floor of the Government building situated on the east half of the block bounded by Washington, Battery, Jackson and Sansome streets, the entrance being on Washington street. Like the other public buildings built in the early days of the city, it has been left behind in our rapid development. For years it has been entirely inadequate to the service of the department, and shifting expedients, alterations and changes in its internal arrangements have been the standing rule. The only effectual relief accomplished, however, has been through the establishment of the various branch offices. Alterations have recently been effected in the old building, making an entire reconstruction of its working space. The entrance from Washington street now leads directly into the lobby, passing the Money Order Office at the entrance on the right, and the Postmaster's private office on the left. The lobby is in the heart of the building instead of on the outside, as formerly, and is entirely surrounded with the working departments of the office. While material improvements in the facilities of the office have been effected by the changes, they are still as before mere temporary expedients. The growing wants, as well as the dignity of our city, demand that a building suitable to and commensurate with the magnitude of our mail service shall no longer be withheld from us. The old U. S. Appraisers' Building is now being renovated for the use of the newspaper department and storage of foreign mails on the first floor, and office of the U. S. Railway Mail Service on the second.

The number of carriers employed is fifty-eight. Two hundred and fifty street letter boxes are conveniently distributed throughout the city, and are gradually growing into the confidence of those for whose benefit they were intended. The boxes are usually attached to street lamp-posts, and are uniformly painted green. They are fastened with the best possible lock, and bear a printed card indicating the time or times the contents are collected, which in every case is at least once per day. The branch offices are situated as follows: Station A at 1305 Polk street, and embraces the tract west of Taylor and north of Geary to Central avenue. Station B at the southwest corner of Seventh and Market; it embraces the tract south of Market from Third to Thirteenth, that west of Stockton and south of Geary to Cemetery avenue, the Potrero and South San Francisco. Station C at the northeast corner of Twentieth and Mission streets; it includes all the territory from Thirteenth to Twenty-sixth streets and that from the Potrero to Church street. A sub Post Office has also been established on Railroad avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth avenues, South San Francisco, comprising all that portion of the city. Letters may be left at this office for registration and any requests for money orders will receive prompt attention. General James Coey is Postmaster, Mr. William C. Dougherty is his First Assistant Postmaster. They are ably supported by a staff exclusive of lettercarriers - of seventy-two persons, six of the number being ladies.

The United States Marine Hospital is situated on the Presidio Reservation, near Mountain Lake. The nearest point to the hospital now reached by the street cars is First enue, about three miles from Kearny street. It consists of three long, two-story wooden ildings, which are ample for the accommodation of one hundred and twenty-five patients. ll the modern hospital improvements are found in this institution. It is maintained at a ost of about $25,000 a year. The class of persons admitted here are mercham seamen (all persons employed on sea and inland merchant vessels), who are obliged to prove their vocation at the Custom House. This hospital is not a public charity. The Government makes a direct tax upon the seamen who receive its benefits, which serves to defray a part of its expenses. Dr. E. Hebersmth is the surgeon in charge; office, U. S. Appraiser's Building, where permits for admission are issued. An ambulance leaves this office daily, carrying patients to the hospital.

Army, Navy, etc.—The Headquarters of the Military Division of the Pacific and the Department of California have been removed from the city to the Presidio Reservation. To accommodate these changes, important and extensive improvements were made. Two new barrack-houses, one story each, were erected on the north side of the parade ground, for headquarters uses, with buildings in the rear for the accommodation of the necessary clerical force; the cottages on the south side have been remodelled, and the building occupying the east side of the parade ground removed, making a material increase in the grounds. Another, and by far the most important, improvement has been the construction of a finely-graded road, nearly one mile in length, by the circuitous route enforced by the nature of the land, faom the Barracks to Fort Point. Another road has been constructed leading to Central avenue, thus giving easy access to the city, and connection with the cable roads, terminating in the vicinity of Laurel Hill Cemetery. During the past year a large two-story brick building has been erected on the southwest corner of New Montgomery and Jessie streets, to be used as a Commissary and Quartermaster's Office, and storage for military supplies.

State Buildings or Offices.—Although several state officials necessarily have their offices in this city, the State has not yet provided any special building for their accommodation. The various Commissioners, Inspectors and Agents rent offices as convenient as possible to the respective locations of their several occupations. Should the reader have any special desire to know where these are he can easily ascertain by referring to the proper place in the general directory.

Municipal Buildings.—Of these, the first to be noticed is the Old City Hall, standing on the southeast corner of Kearny and Washington streets. It was one of the first large buildings erected in the pioneer days of the city, and remains a standing monument of the illy-conceived structures of that date. During the years 1878 and 1879, most of the City and County Offices were removed to the new City Hall, and there now remains in the building only the offices of the Sheriff, County Clerk, Chief of Police, Police Commissioners, and Police Court, all located on the first floor. The second and third floors are used as Court Rooms for departments one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, and eight of the Superior Court.

New City Hall.—The legislation for management and construction of the new City Hall would make an interesting chapter in the political history of San Francisco. So suddenly did the city spring into existence, and so rapid was its growth, that it was almost impossible to provide the halls, court-rooms, offices, prisons, etc., necessary for its increasing business. The old adobes of Dupont, Clay and Washington streets, which sufficed for the Alcaldes, Mayors and Recorders of the "days of '49 and '50," were soon given up for the more commodious quarters on Kearny street and the plaza, and when the Jenny Lind Theater was purchased and adapted to the uses of the city the accommodations seemed complete. For a quarter of a century or more these buildings have comprised the City Hall, and as far as their capacity enabled them, have supplied the chief offices of the city. New courts established, crowded prisons, and increased business, necessitated a building designed and constructed for the special purpose, and the subject of a new City Hall was agitated. In the first survey of the city Larkin street was its western limit, and, at its junction with Market street, a large plot of ground was reserved as Yerba Buena Cemetery, extending three blocks north on Larkin, three east on McAllister, and crossed diagonally by Market to place of beginning. The "Western addition" was soon after surveyed and built upon, thus bringing the cemetery within the populous limits, and burials in it ceased. In 1869, Yerba Buena Cemetery was a neglected inclosure of bramble-covered sand-hills. Then it was proposed to devote it to the purposes of a City Hall. An Act of the Legislature, approved April 4, 1870, authorized the proceeding. The tombs were removed, the ground leveled, and the plot surveyed by running Park avenue parallel to and one hundred feet from Market street, and opening City Hall avenue, one hundred feet wide, connecting Market street with Park avenue. The portion fronting Market street was to be sold and the remainder reserved, on which to erect the building. The impression was that the sale of the lots would supply a sufficient fund for the erection of the necessary structure, but only about $900.000 was received from the sale. Proposals to architects were made, limiting the cost to $1,500,000. Several fine designs were offered, and one, by Augustus Laver, was accepted. Although other architects protested that this design would involve a cost greater than the amount to which they were limited, and therefore unfair to them, the appearance was so attractive—and with the assurance that its cost could be brought within the limit—it was accepted and the acceptance approved by the public. The plot of ground being triangular, required a building of peculiar form, but is neither triangular nor square. The main front on Park avenue is 800 feet, on Larkin street tends 550 feet, and on McAllister 650 feet. In 1871 work was commenced; a deep exca- on was made, and a monolith of broken stone and cement laid six feet in thickness, ring the entire base of the building, and involving an expense of $600,000. Upon this mparable foundation the massive walls of brick were laid, and the superstructure arose, and strong as a casemated fort. The heavy expenditures in the early part of the con- ction admonished the public of the errors in the estimates, and a halt was called. The nal design of the building was altered in order to reduce the cost, the architect removed the superintendency of construction; the Board of Commissioners was abolished—no arges, however, being made against them—and the property taken in charge by the Board Supervisors. The expenditures by the first Board of Commissioners was $1,366,000, and the Supervisors, $203,720. In 1876, an Act was passed by the Legislature authorizing the oard of Supervisors to levy and collect, annually, for four years, a tax of 15 cents on each 100 of valuation, to create a fund to be called "The New City Hall Fund," to carry on the rk of construction. The Act made the Mayor, Auditor, and City and County Attorney a oard of Comissioners, each to receive a salary of $100 a month, and with power to appoint an rchitect at $300 a month, a superintendent at $200 a month, and a secretary at $150 a month. nder this Commission the expenditure—up to the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 79—has been $1,167,835. The estimate, from the same date, to complete the building, is ,750,000; making, should the estimate prove correct, the total cost of the structure ,487,555. The monolith foundation, the massiveness of every wall, the immensity of its n girders, and its exterior ornamentation of towers and columns, have added greatly to the st over ordinary buildings, but have secured it strength and durability to defy the throes the earthquake, the terrors of the flames, or the ravages of time. When completed, it will one of the largest, handsomest, and most durable edifices of the kind in the United States. he main entrance will front on City Hall avenue, a broad opening into Market street, oppo- te Eighth. A flight of steps, extending in a semi-circle of one hundred feet diameter, ascend a broad portico surrounding the base of the principal tower, which rises to a height of two undred and seventy feet. From the portico numerous doors open into a grand vestibule, or otunda, eighty feet in diameter and one hundred and five feet high. From the rotunda lead orridors to the various halls and offices. On the McAllister street front is a broad and egant approach, now completed and used as the principal entrance to the building. Twelve rge iron columns, six feet in diameter and eighty feet in height, stand on the portico and upport the pediment, above which rise two towers, each one hundred and fifty feet high. he Larkin street front is similarly ornamented by portico, pillars and towers, but contains grand entrance. On the southeast wing of the main building is a high, square, cam- nile tower, a fine architectural feature. The original design contemplated a mansard oof, adding a high story, but for the sake of lessening the expenditure a low roof was ubstituted, leaving the building rather flat in comparison to its ground area and the ftiness of its towers. The basement is a story of twelve and a half feet in height. The rst story has a height of twenty feet. On the second story the halls have an elevation of venty feet, but the Court rooms and chambers of the Board of Supervisors extend in height the roof, a distance of thirty-four feet. The third floor has an elevation of eigheen et. In the basement are located the offices of the Superintendent of Streets, License ollector, Registrar of Voters, Commissioners of Insanity, and Grand Jury rooms. On the rst floor the Mayor, Auditor, Treasurer, Assessor, Tax Collector aud Surveyor. On the cond floor, the Clerk's office, and chambers of the Board of Supervisors, and Court-rooms Departments 9 and 10 of the Superior Court. On the third floor, the City and County ttorney, and office of the Board of Education. From either end of the McAllister street ont will extend wings, each one hundred and forty feet in length, inclosing the entrance in oblong square. The Hall of Records is detached from the main building, as an extra fety from fire, but is connected with it by an arcade, describing an arc of a circle. This all is a circular edifice, ninety-five feet in diameter, and surmounted by a dome, rising to height of one hundred and thirty-four feet. It will be surrounded by an arcade, which ill increase the external diameter of the building to one hundred and thirty-two feet. The ail of Records was completed for occupancy in May, 1877; and so much of the main ilding is completed as to supply rooms far the principal city officers.

NDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.—This is a reformatory institution to which ungovernable boys are mmitted, either on complaint of the officers of the law, or, as it often happens, at the quest of the parents or guardians of the refractory youths. It is located on the San José oad, about six miles southwest of the City Hall, and is designed to accommodate two hun- ed and fifty boys. The ages of the inmates range from children of nine years to lads of teen, the greatest number being from ten to seventeen. The boys at the institution are pelled both to work and study, four hours per day being devoted to the former, and and a quarter hours to the latter. Some are taught various useful trades, and a large ber are employed in farming and gardening seventy-five acres of the one hundred and y which compose the grounds being under cultivation. The school-room will seat two lred boys. The Magdalen Asylum connected with this institution has about seventy-five ates. Fifteen dollars per capita per month is appropriated for their support.

THE HOUSE OF CORRECTION is situated on the San José Road, on the lot occupied also by the Industrial School. The building, which is composed of brick and stone, was completed in 1874, and cost about $120,000. The central portion is octagonal in form. Attached are two wings, containing in all two hundred cells, each capable of accommodating two prisoners. The plan contemplates three other wings, with accommodation for one thousand inmates. The cells are furnished for three hundred and ninety-four prisoners, with three dark cells for the purpose of punishment. Several large workshops have been built for the prisoners, all of whom are required to perform manual labor for eight hours each day. There is also a hospital and chapel.

THE CITY AND COUNTY HOSPITAL is situated on a ten-acre plot of ground, in the southern portion of the city, bounded by Potrero avenue and Nevada. Sierra and Nebraska streets.

THE CITY AND COUNTY ALMS HOUSE occupies a portion of the old San Miguel Ranch, distant about six miles from the City Hall, and within sight of Lake Honda.

THE TWENTY-SIXTH STREET HOSPITAL, located on the Potrero, near the corner of De Haro and Colusa streets, is specially set apart for the receipt and care of persons afflicted with contagious diseases.

For a full description of the three last named institutions see Hospitals.

THE COUNTY JAIL is an old two-story brick building, located on Broadway, between Kearny and Dupont streets. For years it has been utterly inadequate to accommodate the number of prisoners committed to it, and temporary expedients in the establishment of branch jails, and the occasional use of the House of Correction have been resorted to when overcrowded. At the present time the use of the House of Correction by the Sheriff for this purpose has been ordered stopped, and the branch jail abandoned

THE CITY PRISON, located in the basement of the old City Hall, at the corner of Kearny and Washington streets, is the most inadequate of all our city institutions. The prison consists of one long corridor, opening into which are several large cells, in each of which a score of prisoners are confined at once. At the upper end of the corridor are several rows of smaller cells, which two or three prisoners can occupy at a time. The whole place is damp and almost without ventilation

In the northeast corner of the basement is an apartment used as a receiving hospital for the reception and treatment of invalids found exposed on the streets, casualties, wounds, etc.

Hotels.

San Francisco still maintains the lead among the cities of the world with respect to the quality and number of her first-class hotels, which she assumed contemporaneously with the opening of the Palace and The Baldwin, and is still able to challenge comparison equally as well upon the score of liberal patronage. In immensity and solidity of structure, the Palace stands probably the peer of any similar building in the world. It is seven stories in heighth, the heighth of each varying from twenty-five feet in the clear—the first story—to fourteen feet—the seventh. It fronts two hundred and seventy-five feet by three hundred and fifty feet in depth. It possesses three inner courts, around which balconies or piazzas attached to each story extend. The walls and partitions are made as nearly earthquake and fire-proof as possible, and required thirty-two millions brick in construction. The courts, the New Montgomery street front and the dining room are now lighted with the electric light, which was first introduced in July, 1878. Taking equal rank with the Palace in character of accommodation and appointment, The Baldwin presents an appearance of more graceful and pretentious architecture, although not as substantially built. It fronts two hundred and seventy-five feet, by one hundred and eighty-four feet in depth. It is six stories in heigth. The basement is entirely of brick and iron. Its principal dome stands one hundred and sixty-eight feet above the pavement, and from its commanding location, it presents one of the most salien of the city's many adornments. To these may be added our other leading hotels, which go toward the completion of our first-class list, all of whose appointments, both in regard to luxury and convenience, combine to sustain the reputation claimed for the city. In the aggregate the accommodating capacity of our leading hotels exceeds five thousand, and it is a jus enconium upon the liberality of the people of the Pacific Coast, that they are generously sustained. The Lick House, so long a favorite among the first-class hotels, in April, 1880. wil be transformed into a business house, devoting the first story to stores, the second to offices and the third to lodging rooms. The following is the list of hotels and their locations :

PALACE HOTEL.— Location, southwest corner of Market and New Montgomery streets extending back to Jessie street. The ground floor on the Market and New Montgomery stree fronts is chiefly occupied by stores. There are seven hundred and fifty-five rooms above th ground floor, and the accommodating capacity of the hotel is estimated at twelve hundred.

THE BALDWIN —Location, on triangular block bounded by Market, Powell and Ellis streets its main front being on Powell street. It has four hundred and ninety-five rooms, accommodating capacity, about eight hundred. This, the latest of our prominent hotel structures, wa formally opened in February, 1877.

HE OCCIDENTAL HOTEL.—Location, east side of Montgomery, extending from Sutter to streets. It is four stories high, and has accommodations for six hundred guests.

HE RUSS HOUSE.—Location, west side Montgomery, extending from Bush to Pine streets. t is three stories high, the ground floor on the Montgomery street front being occupied as tores. It has accommodations for three hundred guests.

THE COMMERCIAL HOTEL.—Location, at junction of Kearny and Pacific streets and Montomery avenue. It fronts one hundred and thirty feet on Pacific, thirty-five feet on Kearny treet, and one hundred and forty-eight feet on the avenue. Capacity, three hundred.

THE COSMOPOLITAN.—Location, southwest corner of Sansome and Bush streets. It is a brick uilding, four stories in height. Only the third and fourth stories and a portion of the first re used for hotel purposes; the second story having been converted into offices. It is now onducted on the European plan.

LODGING HOUSES, ETC.—In addition to the above, there are numerous smaller hotels, and out fifteen hundred boarding and lodging houses in the city. An unusually large number ave been erected during the past few years—notably on Bush, between Kearny and Stockton, Mission, from Third to Ninth, and on various other streets, especially south of Market, are is class of improvements noticeable. A stranger would think our people reversed the rule, d all boarded, and that "keeping house" was the exception, but the far greater number of wellings erected during the same period proves otherwise.

Theaters.

For many years San Francisco has maintained a high reputation for its theaters. Notvithstanding the depressed state of business during the year the theaters have been fairly aintained.

BALDWIN THEATER.—This theater, located in the Baldwin Hotel, has its front on Iarket street, and in point of elegance of fittings, taste and skill in architecture and adornents, stands in the lead of all of our dramatic temples, and indeed challenges comparison vith all others elsewhere. There are three circles in addition to the orchestra, ten mezzanine nd twelve proscenium boxes, the boxes being furnished with elaborate richness. The total eating capacity is about fifteen hundred. Electric automatic fire alarms are located in all arts of the building, and the facilities for fire extinguishment are of the most perfect. Cost, xclusive of hotel, $250,000.

CALIFORNIA THEATER.—Location, Bush street, between Kearny and Dupont. This theater, vhich stands in the relation of the "Old Drury" to the city, was opened in 1869, at a cost of 125,000. There are two circles besides the orchestra, the gallery being in the rear and slightly aised above the upper circle. It has ten private boxes and a total seating capacity of ighteen hundred.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—Location, Mission street, between Third and Fourth. It has a rontage of one hundred and ten feet, by two hundred and seventy-five feet in depth. It has he largest stage of any theater in the United States and the most complete stage appointnents. There are four circles in addition to the orchestra. It has twenty mezzanine and welve proscenium boxes, making a total seating capacity of two thousand four hundred. Its acilities for escape in case of fire are of the best, doors opening into broad vestibules from all arts of the house, render jams almost impossible. This theater was opened in January, 1876, nd cost $325,000. Its location, however, seems to have been unfortunate, and thus far the xperience of managers has been generally disastrous in connection with the Grand.

THE BUSH STREET THEATER.—Location, south side of Bush street, near Montgomery. Seating capacity, about nine hundred.

THE STANDARD THEATER.—Location, north side of Bush street, near Montgomery. Seatng capacity, about eight hundred.

THE TIVOLI GARDEN.—Location, north side of Eddy street, between Powell and Mason. his pleasant place of amusement was established as a free place of resort and saloon for freshments, but an admittance has latterly been required, and it has become a popular place of resort.

THE BELLA UNION THEATER.—Location, west side of Kearny street, near Washington. It is devoted entirely to variety entertainments, and will seat about one thousand.

THE ADELPHI THEATER.—Location, south side of California street, near Kearny. It is like the Bella Union, devoted entirely to variety entertainments.

CHINESE THEATERS.—Of these there are three: The New, 623 Jackson street; the Grand, Washington street, and the Royal, 836 Washington street. They are frequented to a cern extent by white people, particularly tourists.

In addition to the foregoing, there are Platt's, and Union Halls, and the Mechanics' vilion, and other smaller halls, where public entertainments are frequently given Street Railroads.

The street railroad is an American device, which, like so many "Yankee notions," is adopted by all the world seeking ease, comfort and economy. Few cities or large towns of the United States are now without this cheap and ready means of conveyance, and gradually the system is extending through the conservative cities of the old world. The street car is emphatically the poor man's carriage, as it is the rich man's convenience, resorted to by all classes, colors and nationalities, making it the most democratic institution of the age—connecting the centers of business, the fashionable promenades, the quarters of the artisan, the manufacturing districts and places of amusement with the modest family residence and surburban villas, in all the parts and surroundings of the great city. It renders every section of such easy access, that over-crowding is no longer a necessity nor an excuse. Property has thus been enhanced in value, and the sanitary condition greatly improved. In the adoption of this method of intercommunication, San Francisco stands pre-eminent. The growth of the system in this city, the timidity of capital to engage in the enterprise, the struggle for right of way, the distrust of the authorities in granting franchises, the litigation of the colored people to obtain admittance to the cars, the adoption of the cable roads, and the final popularity and rush for franchises, would constitute an interesting feature in our local history.

The Market Street Railroad is the oldest in the city, dating from 1857, when it formed a portion of the San Francisco and San Josè Railroad, and was operated by steam for a number of years, running an awkward looking "dummy" locomotive with one or two cars attached, between the terminus, opposite Fremont street, to the the depot at Valencia street, soon after extending to "The Willows, "then a surburban resort, near the Mission. Market street was not at that date, nor for several years after, a graded highway, and the railway passed through many narrow cuts in the sand hills and by ponds of stagnant water. The track was of T rails, and the gauge that of the steam railroads, which gauge is still maintained, making it and its recent connections different from all others in the city, and forbidding the use of its track by other lines. As all other roads have a broader gauge, it necessitates their laying additional tracks when running on Market street, thus accounting for the numerous lines of rails that mark, in places, that great thoroughfare. The Market Street Railway, of the present, comprises an extensive system. The ferry landing is the most desirable objective point of all the street lines, and from this starts the one under consideration. The main line now extends along Market to its junction with Valencia, and by the latter to Twenty-sixth street, a distance of about four miles, with double tracks. The street is now graded, paved and almost solidly built up the entire distance. The old depot at the junction of Valencia street is abandoned, and the trains of the San Francisco and San Jose Railroad, now the Southern Pacific, make their way to the general depot, at Townsend and Fourth streets. Cars leave the ferry landing every two and a half minutes during the busy hours of the day, and pass the entire length of the route in forty minutes, the fare being five cents for the entire distance or any part thereof. The cars of this line are distinguished from the many cars on the street by their dark blue sides, and at night by their purple lights. A branch on McAllister street to Devisadero, to be operated by a wire cable, will soon be constructed.

The Hayes Valley Railroad is a portion of the Market street sytem, and runs from the ferry landing along Market street to Hayes, a distance of one and three-fifths miles, thence on Hayes to Laguna six blocks, on Laguna to McAllister three blocks, on McAllister, Steiner, Tyler and Devisadero to Ellis street, a total distance of three and a quarter miles. The cars are yellow, and after dark show an orange light. They leave the ferry landing at intervals of two and a half minutes, reaching the outer terminus in thirty minutes—fare five cents.

The Potrero and Bay View Railroad is also a part of the Market street system. This line uses the Market street rails from the ferry landing to Fifth street, thence following Fifth and Bluxome to Fourth, a distance of two miles, the terminus of one division of the line. Over this portion one-horse or "bob-tail" cars are used, which leave the starting point every two and a half minutes. At Fourth street a "transfer" is given to the cars of the other division of the line starting from the corner of Fourth and King streets, which run via Kentucky street and Railroad avenue, crossing Mission Bay, the Potrero, Islais creek and Butchertown to South San Francisco, a distance of about three miles, or a total distance from the foot of Market street of five miles. One fare of five cents is required for the entire distance.

The Omnibus Railroad Company was the first organization of the city for the purpose of running street horse-cars, succeeding to the Omnibus Company, whose ancient and now almost forgotten vehicles, once, it was thought, performed the service so perfectly. These, in their day, elegant carriages are now relegated to the smaller towns, where the city resident, in his wanderings, regards them with wondrous curiosity, as a relic of a by-gone age. The enterprise that imported the omnibuses—and profited by it—led again in perfecting its business and established the street railroad. Being the first, they had the choice of streets, excepting only Market, which then formed a part of the San Jose Railroad, the company chose the route from North Beach to South Park—the first a popular resort and the other the most fashionable quarter—running via Powell, Union, Stockton, Washington, Montgomery and Third streets southern terminus; and another line from the Metropolitan Theater through Montgom- o Market, Second, Howard and Sixteenth streets to the Mission Dolores. These names ate the principal streets and points of attraction up to the inauguration of the street rail- system in San Francisco. The streets now used are: by the first line running yellow from North Beach via Powell, Union, Stockton, Pacific, Montgomery Avenue, Mont- ry, Market, Third and Townsend streets to the Southern Pacific Railroad depot, and the ral offices of the Central and Southern Pacific Railroad Companies. At Market a trans- r is given to cars running to the ferry; at Howard street to the cars on that street, running Howard to Twenty-sixth street, and at Brannan to cars running to the Pacific Mail Steam- ip Company's wharf. The other branch, called the Howard street road, starting from e Metropolitan Block on Montgomery street, runs along Washington to Sansome, to Market, econd and Howard to Twenty-sixth street, making the same connections as the Mont- omery and Third street branch.

The North Beach and Mission Railroad.—The growth of the city has been well marked the construction of street railroads, these first traversing the most populous portions, and their advantages were developed, and their profitableness proven, were extended as rapidly the population spread, and even penetrated unsettled quarters, which were thereby ren- red accessible, and soon rewarded the enterprise with abundant patronage. The North ach and Mission was a rival of the Omnibus, and chose parallel routes, and, like the other, nsists of two lines. One extends from North Beach at Francisco street, via Mason, Broad- ay, Kearny, Geary, Stockton and Fourth streets, to the Southern Pacific Railroad depot at wnsend street, giving transfers to the second line at California and Folsom streets. The rs run at five minutes' interval; fare at the uniform rate of five cents, including transfers. e Mission route runs from the ferry landing, via Market, California, Kearny, Market, urth and Folsom to Twenty-sixth street, and another branch from Montgomery street, via lifornia, Battery, First and Folsom streets to Fourth, where transfers are made to the other anches. By the accommodating system of transfers, the passenger is carried for a single re of five cents to every extreme of the city

The Central Railroad marks another step in the changes of business and the growth of e city. The Company chose for its route a connection with the former landing of the Oak- nd and Alameda ferries, on Davis street, between Pacific and Broadway, running on Jack- n, Sansome, Bush, Kearny, Post, Stockton, Geary, Taylor, Sixth and Brannan to Eighth; t with the change of ferry landings, the change of starting point was made by extending e road along Jackson and East streets to the foot of Market. This formerly gave transfers Turk street for the Lone Mountain branch, but the increase of business in that direction ade a through line a necessity, which now runs from the ferry along Market, Pine, Sansome, ish, Kearny, Post, Dupont, Market, Turk, Fillmore and Post streets, to Cemetery avenue, changing transfers at Taylor street with the Sixth street branch. The Central was for a ig time the only road that reached the vicinity of the cemeteries, and from that fact was re popularly known as the Lone Mountain line, and, with its advantageous connection with e ferries and steamboat landings, was the most profitable road of the city.

The Sutter Street Railroad comprises a very extended scheme of main lines and anches. Originally the main line ran from the steamboat landings at the foot of Broadway, ong that street, Battery, Sutter, Polk, Vallejo, Octavia, Union, Pierce, Greenwich, Brod- ick, Lombard and Baker streets, to Harbor View, a distance of nearly four and a half miles. anches run from the crossing of Larkin along that street to Market, and on Pacific street m Polk to Fillmore. This road was a most important factor in building up the otherwise lated region along its route, but the numerous hills were exceedingly wearing upon the imals used in hauling cars, and travel was necessarily slow. It was, however, the only d penetrating that portion of the city, and for a number of years enjoyed a monopoly of usiness. The subsequent construction and great success of the cable road along Clay t, crossing the precipitous ridge and giving access to the quarter traversed by the Sutter et line, made a reorganization necessary. An underground cable has been laid from the ion of Market street, along Sutter to Polk, thence to Bush, and along the latter to Cem- avenue, and a branch along Larkin street to Market, making it the longest cable road he city. The cars now run by horse traction from the ferry landing, up Market street to er, thence by cable to Polk, Bush and Cemetery avenue; also by horses from the engine e on Polk street to Vallejo, and on Vallejo to Octavia, where connection is made with the s of the Presidio branch to Harbor View. The cable on Larkin street takes the cars to om Market street, from which point horses are used on the extended line along Ninth ission streets to Woodward's Gardens. That portion from Davis street along Broadway Battery streets to Market has been abandoned, and the ferry is reached by a direct road Sutter down Market street.

Fifth and Mission to Twentieth street. This road was constructed chiefly by the late R. B. Woodward, for the primary object of establishing and controlling a method of cheap conveyance to Woodward's Gardens, and its management has been economical and efficient from its inception. One-horse cars are chiefly used, making frequent trips and affording rapid transit.

The Clay Street Hill Railroad is distinguished as being the pioneer "cable road," not only of this city, but of the world. The system is unique, and a triumph of inventive genius and engineering skill of which San Francisco has just cause to be proud. While every city is seeking to perfect and cheapen its means of transit from business centers to suburbs, none have been found so effective, cheap, safe and pleasant as the underground cable and the stationary engine. This traverses hills as well as level streets, forms no more obstruction than the ordinary track, is noiseless in its operations, and the cars are more completely under control than when attached to horses. By its means the hilly regions are made as accessible as the level portion, and as they are regarded as healthier, those localities having the greatest elevation are the most desirable for residences. The construction of the Clay street road was regarded as an experiment of a very doubtful character, and the difficulties surmounted by the originator, and the labor bestowed upon the plans and exercised upon capitalists to enlist them in the enterprise were equal to the physical work of constructing the road itself. For this San Francisco is indebted to Mr. Benjamin H. Brooks, son of the distinguished lawyer B. S. Brooks, a pioneer of 1849. Attention was early called to devise means of direct access to the northern portion of the "Western Addition," to whiah the high, precipitous ridge extending north from Bush street seemed an insurmountable barrier. A tunnel through the ridge along Broadway was proposed, and an Act of the Legislature was passed authorizing it. For several years this was agitated as the only feasible means, but it did not appear to fill the requirements, and the great cost forbade capital investing in it. This would have still left the elevated lands without relief, and it is fortunate that the tunnel was not undertaken. Mr. Brooks having conceived the happy idea of an endless wire cable, laid under the surface of the street and operated by a stationary engine, set his inventive genius to work to perfect the details. A year or more was spent in planning, draughting and experimenting, having in this the efficient aid of Mr. W. H. Hepburn, a very skillful civil engineer, and when fully prepared the scheme, as subsequently carried out and now in such successful operation, was presented to the Board of Supervisors and a franchise asked for. Thomas H. Selby, who was then Mayor, hesitated long and investigated the matter thoroughly before approving it, and then not until such engineers as General Alexander, of the army, B. P. Brunner, of the Rolling Mills, N. D. Arnott, of the street railroads, and others, had assured him of the feasibility of the plan and the safety of the operation as proposed. In 1869 the franchise was granted. The next great difficulty was to induce capital to invest in the enterprise. So novel was the scheme, and so poor the prospect of remuneration, that stock gambling was considered preferable, and local capital refused to touch it. A subsidy of $30,000 was obtained from property holders along the route, but even with this help no money to do the work could be obtained. Eastern capitalists were invited to investigate it, but upon examining the locality, seeing the steep hill and the few pedestrians upon the street, declared it would never pay, and consoled the enthusiasm of the inventor by admiring the skillfulness of his plans, but declining to invest. Thus struggling for some years, the plans and franchise were in 187 transferred to Mr. Hallidie for a nominal consideration, a new subsidy was subscribed, th great experiment undertaken, and in September, 1873, was completed from Kearny to Leavenworth street, and put in operation. Not only has it proven a mechanical success, but contrary to the opinion of capitalists, it has been remunerative beyond all systems in use So complete and economical has it proven that other companies have adopted it, and in al probability the underground cable will eventually supercede all other means of traction fo street cars. To the traveler the sensation of ascending and descending the steep hills is mos delightful, the motion being rapid and easy, undisturbed by the painful sympathy for laborin horses, or fear of danger. The cable—a wire rope three inches in circumference—runs in a iron tube laid beneath the street, midway between the rails, with an open slit three-quarter of an inch wide, on the top, through which iron arms attached to and operated in the car or "dummy," reach and clutch the cable, which is securely grasped or instantly released, a required. Brakes which press upon the track, as well as wheels, readily and securely sto and hold the cars, however steep the grade may be, thus being better prepared to avoi accident than when horses or locomotives are used. San Francisco in adopting this systen has made a progress in street railroad building which places her far in advance of all other citie and is the advance most remarkable of the last decade. The Clay street road now runs it cable from Kearny street to Van Ness avenue, one mile, carrying near two million passengers annually; using about five hundred tons of coal screenings in the same period. Fro the crossing of Leavenworth, a branch operated by horses runs on that street, Vallejo, Hyd Union and Larkin, to Chestnut street. Fair five cents.

The California Street Railroad is a cable road, and is regarded as the crownin achievement of its class. The practicability of ascending the high hills by means the endless cable having been shown by the operations of the Clay street road, and Californi

t being similarly situated—the elevation, however, being considerably greater—a com- was organized in 1876 for the purpose of making such a road through it. On the 5th of , 1877, work was commenced, and on April 10th, 1878, the road was open for traffic Kearny to Fillmore street, a distance of about one and three-quarter miles. This has been extended to First avenue, crossing Cemetery avenue, a total distance of two and lf miles. Cars, attached to "dummy," both being elegantly fitted for passengers, leave arny street every two and a half minutes, and pass over the distance in twenty minutes, are being five cents. No expense or skill has been spared in making this road perfect in ery detail, substantial, safe and enduring. The track is a rigid framework of iron, the ties, laced every four feet, being of old T rails bent to form an inverted arch, thus leaving a pace for the tube through which runs the cable, and all about the framework and tube is id a solid body of concrete. The machinery is located at the southeast corner of Larkin nd California, and is as complete and powerful as could be devised. There are two engines f five hundred horse power each, so arranged that either can be used in case of accident to he other, or both can be used together if required. At Kearny and Fillmore streets deep xcavations were made, each sixty feet long, and walled up with solid masonry, in which are lleys, fastened to heavily weighted cars on an inclined track, around which the cable runs, nd by their weight and mobility keep the cable taut. At Larkin street an excavation one undred and ten feet in length, thirty feet in width and thirty-one feet in depth, heavily alled and arched with brick and iron, was made to receive the driving machinery. This ompany has been granted the right to extend its road to First avenue, thence South to D, or ulton street, and thence to Sixth avenue

THE BERRY STREET RAILROAD, running from Channel street, or the landing at the foot f Third street, to Berry, and thence to Seventh, was constructed in 1877 for the use of wood nd lumber dealers, but was never put in operation.

THE GEARY STREET, PARK AND OCEAN RAILROAD, recently completed, is a cable road unning from Market, at the junction of Kearny and Geary, through the latter to Point obos avenue, at the junction of Cemetery avenue, where it connects with a road operated y a dummy locomotive along Point Lobos avenue to First avenue, thence on D street to he Golden Gate Park on the south and Golden Gate Park Race-course on the north. he cable road has a length of two and a half miles, and the portion extending to the ark, a length of about one and a quarter miles. The Geary Street road crossing the Larkin treet road, also a cable, involved the necessity of passing its cable under the other without nterfering with its working, which engineering has been skillfully accomplished. Since its ompletion the travel over this road has been immense, at times the number of cars being nsufficient to accommodate all who wished to avail themselves of the opportunity of taking cheap ride to Golden Gate Park.

During the year many other roads have been projected, and for several franchises have een obtained. Among the latter is the San Francisco and Ocean Shore Railroad, to run on ulton street to the Ocean Beach and to the Cliff House. A railroad is projected and fran-hise granted to Charles Lux and others to run from Market on Second, Mission, Seventh, Bryant, Ninth streets, and Potrero avenue to Twenty-sixth street, a distance of two and a half miles, with branch from Ninth to Market, to Hayes, along Hayes, Gough, Bay and Laguna treets to Lewis and the water front; also from the intersection of Potrero avenue and wenty-sixth street along Potrero avenue and its extensions to Thirty-fifth street, a distance f about two and a half miles, or a total distance from the junction of Second and Market treets of five miles. A franchise has also been granted to A. K. Baldwin and others to onstruct a road from the Presidio, running through the most available streets in the northern part of the city to the ferry landing at the foot of Market street.

Steam Railroads.

San Francisco may be regarded as the objective point of all railroads of the Pacific coast; but more particularly so of all in California. The city is fixed as the natural center of com-erce of the whole west coast of North America. The great rivers, valleys and mountain passes lead unerringly to this point, and thus converge the channels of inland trade from all e surrounding States and Territories. The broad bay affords one of the best harbors of e world, and the Golden Gate opens to the Pacific and all the maritime nations of the rth. The currents of the air and the ocean so aid the other advantages, that the location s perfected as a center of commerce. These natural conditions force all artificial lines of de and travel to the same center, and therefore, whatever point on the coast other than s may be selected as the terminal point of a railroad, it will be found the road can ve no terminus but by its connections with San Francisco. All transcontinental railroads l add to the greatness of San Francisco, wherever their nominal terminus may be.

The principal railroads of the State, with their connections, are centered under one anagement, being the following as now conducted, with their termini and lengths: Central acific, from San Francisco to Niles, 30¼ miles; the same, from San Jose to Ogden, 870½

Colorado and other rivers, making a total of 4232 miles of transportation under one company, or rather one general management, as there are, nominally, several companies. The Directors of the Central Pacific are Leland Stanford, C. P. Huntington, Charles Crocker, E. H. Miller, Jr., W. V. Huntington, E. W. Hopkins. and C. F. Crocker.

The first of this great system was the Sacramento Valley Railroad, constructed in 1855 and 1856, from Sacramento to Folsom, a distance of 22½ miles, and at a cost of $1,100,000. The building of this, now a simple and unimportant road, was regarded as a grand enterprise at that early date in our history, and it was the first railroad ever seen by many of the immigrants from the Western States. Railroads did not then, as at present, traverse almost every county of the United States, and they were indeed a curiosity. This has since been extended to Shingle Springs, in El Dorado County.

THE CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD is California's portion of the great transcontinental line. Work was commenced on it on the 9th of January, 1863; the first shovel of earth being turned by Leland Stanford, then Governor of California and President of the railroad company. Connection with the Union Pacific was made on the 15th of May, 1869, at Promontory, in Utah, 828 miles from San Francisco. At a later date arrangements were made with the Union Pacific Company, whereby that portion of the road from Promontory to Ogden was transferred to the Central Pacific Company. The obtaining the franchise and subsidies. and the building of this road and its connections, form an important part of California's history, which has been quite completely told in previous issues of the DIRECTORY. On the 28th of December, 1679, an important change was made in the route to Sacramento, via Oakland, and crossing the Straits of Carquinez, from Port Costa to Benicia, with trains of cars on a ferrying steamer. The distance is about one mile across, and is made in ten minutes. By this route the distance from San Francisco to Sacramento is 89¾ miles, while by the former route, via Oakland, Martinez and Stockton, it was 151 miles. Over this route is taken the overland freight and passenger trains.

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC, with its different divisions, routes and extent, has been mentioned. The different branches comprise a system as complex as the Central. While the real Southern Pacific runs from San Francisco via San Jose to Tres Pinos, the trains upon that road run to Soledad; but to reach the southern part of the State the Central Pacific is taken from San Francisco to Goshen, where the main line of the Southern Pacific is intercepted. This route is via San Jose, Tres Pinos, Huron and Goshen, but that portion from Tres Pinos to Huron, about 100 miles in extent, is not yet constructed, the precipitous mountain range separating the San Benito from the San Joaquin Valley preventing. In Arizona this road has been extended to Casa Grande, a distance of 182½ miles from Yuma, and 902 miles from San Francisco.

THE NORTHERN RAILWAY is also in detached parts, operating in conjunction with the California Pacific, joining it at Suisun and leaving it at Woodland, whence it runs to Willows, in Colusa County, 64 miles from Woodland and 151 from San Francisco. This northern arm runs through one of the finest wheat regions of the State, and is to be extended to a junction with the Oregon Division of the Central Pacific, at, or near Tehama. From the foregoing it would appear that the State was covered by the rails of a single company, as they run in every direction and embrace so great an extent of country. There are, however several independent lines as follows:

THE SAN FRANCISCO AND NORTH PACIFIC, from Donahue to Cloverdale, a distance of 66 miles, with a branch from San Rafael to Junction, near Petaluma, 20½ miles, and a branch from Fulton to the lumber region about Guerneville, 16 miles in length. This road makes connection with San Francisco by steamboat from Donahue, 24 miles, and from San Rafael 14 miles.

PACIFIC MAIL STEAMSHIP COMPANY.—This company owns and operates the following lines: ew York and Aspinwall, two thousand miles; Panama and San Francisco, three thousand o hundred miles; Panama and Acapulco, one thousand eight hundred miles; Panama and amperico, one thousand one hundred miles; San Francisco and Hongkong, six thousand ur hundred miles; San Francisco and Tacoma, one thousand miles; San Francisco and stralia, eight thousand six hundred miles; total length of routes, twenty-three thousand ne hundred miles, a distance very nearly equal to the circumference of the earth.

For the transaction of the immense business included in these routes, the company now vns and has in service twenty-two iron screw propellers, seventeen side-wheel steamships, sides superannuated vessels, tug boats, etc. Many of these vessels are of the best class of val construction, and possess the most luxurious appointments.

In the New York and San Francisco through line, via the Isthmus, a vessel leaves New rk on the 20th and 30th of each month, and San Francisco on the 5th and 20th of each onth. The vessels of this line touch only at San Jose de Guatemala, Acapulco, Manzanillo, n Blas and Mazatlan. In the Panama and Champerico line, a vessel leaves New York on e 10th and 30th of each month, and Champerico on the 4th and 20th. In the Panama and capulco line, a vessel leaves New York on the 20th and Acapulco on the 18th of each month. h Champerico and Acapulco lines are more especially designed for the accommodation of stwise trade of the Central American and Mexican ports of the Pacific.

On this line the business of the past year has shown ight increase over 1878, in the matter of freights, accompanied, however, with a material crease in the passenger traffic.

On the Australia route, a vessel leaves San Francisco every fourth Saturday, commencing it January 17th of the present year, carrying the United States and British mails, for Hon- u, Auckland and Sydney.

n the Tacoma line, a vessel is dispatched on the 10th, 20th and 30th of each month, fo oria, B. C., Port Townsend, Seattle, Tacoma, Olympia and Portland. The company important connections are as follows: At Yokohama, with steamers of the Mitsu for Hiogo, Nagasaki and Shanghai; at Hongkong, with English and French steamer upper ports of India, the Red Sea and the Suez Canal; at Sydney, with steamers for W Melbourne, Adelaide and Hobart Town; at Panama, with Pacific Steam Navigati for all important South American ports, and at Aspinwall, with steamers of the R

PACIFIC COAST STEAMSHIP COMPANY.—This company does nearly all the coasting busin between San Francisco and San Diego, excepting the transportation of lumber. Its steam run to nearly every port on the Pacific Coast from San Diego on the south to British Colum on the north. It owns sixteen steamers, two of them just off the stocks. Their new steam State of California, is probably the fastest and finest ever built in this country, being the fi and only one flying the American flag built under the supervision and rules of the Brit Lloyds. She is on the Portland, Oregon, route. The other, the Victoria, is on the Brit Columbia route

The company is under the general agency of the well-known firm of Goodall, Perkins & C who own a majority of the stock. The amount of the capital stock is $2,000,000, divided i 20,000 shares of $100 each. Over $1,000,000 has been paid in, and the company's assets f up largely in excess of that amount. The Ticket Office is at 214 Montgomery, and the Gene Office at No. 10 Market street

THE OREGON RAILWAY AND NAVIGATION COMPANY (until recently called the Oreg Steamship Company) established, nearly twenty years ago, a regular line of steamships ply between San Francisco, Astoria and Portland, Oregon. Vessels now leave each p about every five days, carrying the United States mails, express, treasure, freight and p sengers, and connecting with quick dispatch at Portland with railroads, steamers and ot connecting stage lines, for all points in Oregon, Washington and Idaho Territories, Brit Columbia and Alaska. To accommodate the constantly increasing trade and travel betw San Francisco and Oregon, this company has, during the past two years, added to its fleet large, new, fast, first-class iron-screw steamships. All of these steamships combine gr speed with great carrying capacity of passengers and freight, and are provided with all modern improvements and elegant appointments, including superior cabin and steer accommodations, for the safety and comfort of the traveling public, and the quick and handling of cargo. Henry Villard, Esq., is president, and Capt. K. Van Oterendorp ag and general superintendent; office 210 Battery street.

OCCIDENTAL AND ORIENTAL STEAMSHIP COMPANY.—This company has been in act operation between San Francisco and China and Japan since June, 1875. They dispatch of their steamers about the middle of every month, carrying the United States mails. equipment consists of the Gælic, Oceanic and Belgic, three large, well-equipped vessels, first-class build, affording excellent accommodations, and almost perfect safety to the faring public. This line is operated by a company of some of the most reliable and wor business men of this city.

THE CALIFORNIA AND MEXICAN STEAMSHIP COMPANY dispatches a vessel upon the 3 each month for Magdalena Bay, Cape St. Lucas, Mazatlan, La Paz and Guaymas. This carries the Mexican mails and Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, and is engaged exclusively in Mexican Coast trade.

In addition, there are plying from the city to various points on the coast and in our r and bay trade the following: For Eel River and Coos Bay, Oregon, steamer Arcata; Eureka, Hookton and Arcata, steamers Humboldt and Los Angeles; for San Buenaventura way ports, steamer Constantine; for Sacramento, the steamers Enterprise and Julia form d lines leaving the Washington Street Wharf at 4 P. M. The Sacramento trade also incl the steamers San Joaquin, Reform, and Pride of the River. The steamers City of Stock Alice Garratt, Centennial, Tulare, and Mary Garratt form a daily line to Stockton, and sma steamers ply between Napa, Petaluma, Antioch, Marysville, and intermediate points, necting them with the city.

Ferries.

THE OAKLAND FERRY, at the foot of Market street, leaves every half hour for Oakl from 6:10 A. M., until 7 P. M. The next boat leaves at 8:10; the next, 9:20; the next, 10 and the last at 11:45. Trips are also made via the Creek Route, boats leaving at 5:40, 6 7:20, 8:15, 9:15, 10:15 and 11:15 A. M., and 12:15, 1:15, 2:25, 3:15, 4:15, 5:15 and 6:15 P The average number of passengers crossing from Oakland daily during 1879, was fifteen t sand two hundred and forty; it is estimated that fully twenty thousand cross on Sund Fare, fifteen cents each way; round-trip tickets, on Sundays, twenty-five cents. Comm tion tickets, good for one trip, each way, per day, for one month, are sold at $3. The fol ing statistics concerning the travel on this ferry will prove quite interesting: Numbe trips, 1873, two millions six hundred and fifty-five thousand six hundred and seventy- 1874, three millions one hundred and ninety-two thousand nine hundred and four; 1875, millions twenty-eight thousand three hundred and ten; 1876, four millions nine hundred ne thousand nine hundred and sixty; 1877, five millions five hundred and seventy thou hundred and fifty-five; 1878, five millions seven hundred and fifty-four thousand six and two; 1879, five millions five hundred and sixty-two thousand eight hundred -nine. Saucelito Ferry.—The landing of these ferry steamers is at the foot of Market street. Four round trips are made daily. About three thousand passengers are carried daily. Connection is made with the North Pacific Coast Railroad Co., for San Rafael, Duncan's Mills, etc. Boats leave as follows: 8:45 and 10:30 a. m., and 3:15 and 5:15 p. m. An extra trip is made on Mondays, leaving the wharf at 7:00 a. m.

Berkeley Ferry.—A boat leaves San Francisco daily (Sundays excepted) at 3:30 p. m. Time, forty-five minutes.

The Alameda Ferry has its landing at the foot of Market street, immediately adjoining and southeast of the Oakland Ferry landing. Boats leave at 5:30, 6:40, 7:45, 9:00 and 10:30 a. m., and 12:00 m., 1:30, 4:00, 5:15, 6:30 and 8:30 p. m. The trip requires twenty-five minutes. This ferry is run by the South Pacific Coast Railroad Company.

Water Front and Harbor Improvements.

The Board of Engineers appointed by the Harbor Commissioners under the provisions of the Act of the Legislature of 1875-6, have established a new line of water front, which begins two hundred feet seaward from the northern prolongation of the Presidio Reservation, and extends in an easterly and southerly direction upon straight lines, in such manner as to approach as near as practicable the extreme outer projections of the water front, established by Act of 1851, to a point near the intersection of Second and Berry streets, and thence to continue southerly upon straight lines in such manner as to approach as near as practicable the extreme outer projections of the water-line front, established by the Board of State Tide Land Commissioners, to the southern boundary of the City and County of San Francisco. An important feature of the readjustment of the water front is that it will afford a new thoroughfare, two hundred feet in width, extending in straight lines from point to point along the water front, and affording easy access to all parts of it. Distances will be very materially shortened. The new line provides for free entrance to China, Central, India, South and Dry Dock Basins. The following is the estimate of costs of the new line, including the expense of dredging a channel sixty feet wide and twenty feet deep, filling it with large stone, filling the thoroughfare with small stone and earth, planking the roadway, and constructing a wharf fifty-feet wide, to serve as a facing to the sea wall: From Chestnut to Harrison street, 7,000 f

Second street, 3,080 feet, $1,156,400. Total distance, 13,250 feet; total cost, $4,359,086.

During the past year, the receipts from all sources for the Harbor Fund have be $708,184 94. Expenditures, $433,814 07; turned in to State Treasury, $274,370 87. Of th expenditures, $137,378 39 have been devoted to permanent improvement, $3,948 84 to the purchase of dredges and steam tugs, $27,182 16 to urgent repairs, $107,091 87 to sea wall account, and the remainder to maintenance and contingent expenses.

Work contemplated in China Basin has been delayed by questions on the part of property owners as to the right of the Board to enter China Basin. The matter is now before the Supreme Court, and if favorably decided, important and extensive improvements will be immediately undertaken, the effect of which will be to afford a vast increase of accommodations to our lumbermen.

Work under three separate contracts is now in progress, covering the contemplated bulkhead at North Beach, from Stockton to Lombard streets. For the first thousand feet the gross price is about $145,000. The second thousand feet has been let at forty-six cents per cubic yard for the rock work, and twenty cents for earth, and $20,000 additional for wharf; the third thousand feet, for sixty-five cents per cubic yard for rock work, and twenty-five cents for earth, with $20,000 additional for wharf. An additional section of six hundred and twenty-five feet has also been let, extending from the westerly end of section one to the westerly line of Powell street, at fifty three cents per cubic yard for rock work, and twenty-four and nine hundredths cents for earth, with $14,800 additional for wharf. A section of one thousand feet between Lombard and Filbert streets will be let at an early date. Kearn street has been filled in from the shore-line to the bulkhead, at a cost of $11,975.

Water Supply.

The Spring Valley Water Works draw their principal supply at present fro

mii co, viz: Market Street, Russian Hill, Francisco Street, Clay Street, and Brannan Street
Sou servoirs, all of which have a capacity of more than sixty million gallons. The water from these distributing reservoirs is furnished to the inhabitants of San Francisco through a system of cast-iron pipes, laid in the streets, nearly one hundred and seventy miles in length, varying in diameter from twenty-two inches to three inches. The Company also obtain from Lobos Creek, by means of an aqueduct and pumping works at Black Point, two million gallons daily. It owns additional water rights relating to the coast streams above and below Spanishtown, which will enable it to utilize a water-shed of sixty square miles. It has also acquired Calaveras Valley, which controls two hundred and fifty square miles of water-shed, and is the next nearest source of supply to San Francisco that exists. It has facilities readily adapting it to the construction of reservoirs that will contain forty thousand million gallons. From these Calaveras reservoirs the water will be conducted by an aqueduct, consisting of two miles of tunnel, twenty-two miles of pipe, and about twenty-four miles of open aqueduct, to Crystal Springs and San Andreas Reservoirs; independent pipe lines will convey the water from there to the city reservoirs. When the entire works are developed as proposed, the Spring Valley Water Works will have a storage capacity aggregating eighty-six thousand million gallons, and fed from a total water-shed of about three hundred and fifty square miles; all of which, when developed, will give an average yield of more than two hundred million gallons daily—which, according to the amount consumed in Liverpool, England, viz: fourteen and one-half gallons per capita, will be enough to supply near fourteen million inhabitants. The Company is also prepared, in case of any exigency requiring additional supplies, to pump water from Lake Merced to the extent of five million gallons per day.

Exhaustive surveys, looking to the building of water works to be owned by the city, by Colonel Mendell, of the United States Engineer Corps, under the direction of the Board of Water Commissioners created by the act of the Legislature of 1876, were made in 1876 and 1877. A number of different schemes were proposed and examined, having their sources in the Sierra Nevada, several of which were highly approved by the public; but after an expenditure of near one hundred thousand dollars in examinations, etc., the enquiry was abandoned. Overtures were made for the purchase by the city of the Spring Valley Water Works, which were offered for $11,800,000, which being deemed too large a sum, the purchase was not made. For a number of years the proposition has been entertained of purchasing ake Merced, and by pumping, supply a portion of the city. The price fixed was $15,000,-00. This was agreed upon under Act of the Legislature passed in 1876, known as the Rogers bill," but before the sale was consummated the law was repealed by the Legislature n January, 1880. Under the New Constitution the Municipal authorities have the power to egulate the rates for water and to assess property for a portion, thus reducing the rates to consumers.

Public Squares and Gardens.

There are twenty-two public parks, or squares, in this city, varying in size from two hundred feet to the great Ocean Park of one thousand and thirteen acres. Ocean, or Golden Gate Park, lies in the northwestern portion of the city, bordering on the ocean. It is fifty-six blocks long and nine blocks wide—or three miles long and a half mile wide. A beautiful avenue, or drive, about three-quarters of a mile long and one hundred yards wide, leads from the city proper to the park. There are seven lakelets in this park; also arbors, grottoes, mounds, rustic benches, etc., which gives it rather a picturesque and romantic appearance. Up to June 30, 1877, the Park Commissioners had received from all sources $499,941 09, of which $486,249 47 had been expended, leaving a cash balance of $13,691 62. From June 30, 1877, to June 30, 1878, the receipts from various sources were $75,182 38; balance from previous year, $13,691 62—$88,874 00. Expenditures, $57,210 38. Balance June 30, 1878, $31,663 62. From June 30, 1878, to June 30, 1879, the receipts have been as follows: From taxes, $45,419 77; from Police Court fines, $600; from Pound fees, $91; from sale of old sacks, $34; from sale of iron pipe, $125 20; sale of disabled horses, $75 25; and $2,000 transferred from the General Fund—making a total since their last report of $48,345 22, with balance on hand at that date, $31,663 62—$80,008 84.

As a consequence, works of improvement during were discontinued, and force employed only to the extent necessary for maintenance, in the case of the conservatory, built during the year, for which purpose the special priation of $40,000 by the Legislature was made. The gross amount of expenditure e set forth includes the expenses for fencing Buena Vista and Mountain Lake Parks, king large plantations in the former, and the expense of the preliminary topographical veys for Golden Gate Park. Deducting these, and there remains actually expended upon Park, in the six and one-half years since the work was begun, $570,642 52. Of this unt, about $185,000 is chargeable to maintenance, $20,000 to work horses, rolling stock, ls, etc., the remainder, $366,879 74, being chargeable to direct improvement.

During the year ending June 30, 1879, the Park was visited by seven hundred and three usand four hundred and fifty-five persons.

The length of roadway constructed is forty-eight thousand six hundred and eighty-two , representing an area of two million fifty-six thousand six hundred and thirty square feet. ut five miles of linear length of walks have been constructed, of which nearly three-fourths ompleted, the remainder needing only the capping surface of screened rock with which are finished. The improvements in roadway during the past year consist in the completion large section of the "Southern Drive," the driveway connecting with First avenue, and e macadamized road connecting the western entrance with the Point Lobos Road. About thousand five hundred feet of walks have also been completed. A large area has been ded, converted into lawns, and sown with selected grasses. A cottage for the florist in rge of the conservatories has been erected, also a propagating house in the nursery grounds. tensive improvements are now being made, the men being paid by voluntary subscription ured by Mr. David Bush.

The number of trees and shrubs planted in the Park since the spring of 1872, when this nch of improvement was begun, is one hundred and fifty-five thousand nine hundred and ty-eight. In the nursery, for future planting in the coming season, there are forty-five usand trees and shrubs, and about twenty-five thousand flowering plants. The reclamation the lands bordering on the great highway, from the continued drift of the shifting sands he ocean, the solution of the problem for which the simple means adopted by the engineer harge, amply furnished, continues to become more and more assured; the dune has steadily reased in height, and its resisting power to the drifting force of the sands has become fully ablished.

In 1878, a conservatory was erected for the reception of the two conservatories presented the Park Commissioners by a number of our prominent citizens during the year 1877. ese conservatories were purchased from the estate of the late James Lick, Esq., by whom y were imported from France, and presented upon the condition that suitable buildings their reception and care should be erected in Golden Gate Park within eighteen months m date of presentation. In pursuance of this condition, the Legislature of 1877-8 passed an bling act, authorizing the appropriation of $40,000, and the work was at once begun. The servatory is located about one-quarter of a mile from the entrance of the main park, and is ilt upon a plateau, partially artificial, lying to the right of, and about fifteen feet above, the el of the main drive. An adequate conception of its magnificent character may be obtained m the following figures:

It is built, judging from superficial appearance, almost entirely of glass, is two hundred l fifty feet in length, the main building being fifty-six feet square, and surmounted by a ne, rising fifty-six feet high in the clear, inside measurement, the inside space being broken by any trusses or girders, the roof being supported and sustained entirely by its nection with the external walls. In this splendid dome the bright glare of the con- us crystal is relieved by two lines of glass in variegated colors, one at the spring of arch and the other at the summit of the arch. The remaining portions of the building rage thirty-five feet in width; the east and west ends being extended in their fronts, which he south, to a line parallel with the main or central building. In front of the main ing is a reception room, twenty by twenty feet, through which visitors will enter. In enter of the reception room is a small pool, from the middle of which rises a tasty and ue fountain, the design showing a swan surrounded by magnolias, upholding a bowl in n a mermaid rises, holding on her shoulders a sea-shell in which the fountain plays. On ight of the rotunda is the "Orchid House," an arched room, thirty-five by fifty feet, not horoughly stocked, yet still making quite a display of some handsome varieties. The xtension is used as the aquatic house. Here, in the front, is located the fernery, in the of a Grecian cross, from which the water passes to the main pool in the rear of it, a is a trifle lower in height, and thirty feet in diameter. This is the home of the Victor r Lily, a tropical flower, whose exuberant growth produces leaves five and six fee h, each of which is capable of upholding a child on the water. eighty degrees Fahrenheit. The heating apparatus is located in the basement of the of which is situated directly in the rear of the main building. The pipes for communicating heat to the main building are over four thousand feet in length. On the east of the office, a in the rear of the east wing, is located a smaller glass house, fifty by twelve feet, containin two propagating beds. Similarly located, in rear of the west wing, is another structur twenty-five by thirty-five feet, containing two nursery beds.

The whole building required in its construction twenty-six thousand square feet of glass, weighing thirty-five tons, and three tons of putty. It is a marvel of architectural beauty, surpassing in this respect any similar construction in the United States, and is only equalled in size by the Government Conservatory in the Horticultural Gardens at Washington. The contractors were Messrs. Lord and Burnham, of Irvington, N. Y., who make a specialty of works of this class. This being the largest work they have ever executed, they have given personal supervision to all its details, and its completion has justly created for them, as well as for the reputation of San Francisco's greatest park, a monument of never-failing beauty; a testimonial to the one of superior skill and genius, and to the management of the other a full comprehension of the æsthetic tastes of our people.

No further work upon the parks of the city has been done during the year, save simple maintenance, except in the case of Pioneer Park, where the road leading to its summit has been completed.

In addition to Golden Gate Park, we have Pioneer Park, on the crest of Telegraph Hill, which embraces six fifty-vara lots, donated for the purpose by several liberal citizens; Buena Vista Park, bounded by Haight, Fell and Broderick streets, containing thirty-six acres; Mountain Lake Public Square, in the Presidio Reservation, and eighteen additional reserved blocks or squares in different sections of the city, most of which have been more or less improved. Portsmouth Square, opposite the old City Hall, is noted as being the place where the United States flag was raised over our newly acquired territory from Mexico, on the 8th day of July, 1846.

Woodward's Gardens.—These gardens, although a private collection and improvement, are justly regarded as one of the principal attractions of the city. They are located on the block bounded by Mission, Thirteenth, Valencia and Fourteenth streets; are finely improved, and contain valuable and extensive collections of natural and antique curiosities, wild animals, fossils and paintings.

Central Gardens, located at the junction of Point Lobos and Central avenues, will be, when completed, one of the most attractive places of resort in the city. The grounds will be laid out in a tasty and ornamental manner, and planted with shrubbery, flowers, etc., of the choicest and most varied kinds. It will contain fountains, aviaries, conservatories, menageries, fish ponds, etc. There will be erected a capacious amphitheater for the purpose of balloon ascensions; also a pavilion, which will accommodate over five thousand persons. The site will command a fine view of the bay and surrounding country.

Public Schools.

The free public schools of San Francisco are the pride of the citizens, and their efficiency attract many families to reside in the city in order that their children may reap the advantages they offer. The first English school was established in April, 1847, with about thirty pupils, taught by a Mr. Marston, who is therefore the pioneer teacher of the city. Late in the same year the citizens organized a public school, and erected a building on the southwest corner of the Plaza, now Portsmouth Square. In April, 1849, the Common Council established a public school, and John C. Pelton and wife were employed as teachers, and this was the beginning of the system which has continued to the present time. During the fiscal year 1878-79 there were 60 schools, employing 696 teachers, and having an enrolled attendance of 38,129 pupils, of whom 19,926 were boys and 18,203 girls. By the report of the School Census Marshal, June 30, 1879, the number of youth in the city under seventeen years of age is 88,104, being an increase for the year of 7,816. The number between five and seventeen who are entitled to draw school money is 62,105, an increase of 6,206 for the year. The number attending private and church schools only during the year (not including Chinese) was 7,224, an increase during the year of 673. The number between five and seventeen years of age (not including Chinese) who have not attended school at any time during the year was 19,389, an increase over the preceding year of 3,168. The last exhibit—of children not attending any school—is worthy of note. The enrollment at the different schools was as fol- ws: High schools—Boys, 350; girls, 901; total, 1,251. Grammar schools, including some mary grades—Boys, 6,999; girls, 7,246; total, 14,246. Primary schools, including some nmar grades—Boys, 10,743; girls, 9,807; total, 20,550. Evening schools—Boys, 1,834; 249; total, 2,083. The financial condition of the Department is represented as follows: ate and city tax for school purposes in the year 1878 79 was 16 cents on each $100. l income, including cash on hand at the beginning of the year, was $856,107 52, a de- om the previous year of $161,102 31. The estimated value of school property is: School ,930,000; buildings, $900,000; school furniture, $183,000; libraries, $9,302; school us, $25,000. Total, $3,047,302. The Superintendent, in his Annual Report, institutes risons of the cost of the schools of San Francisco with those of St. Louis, Cincinnati and ton. A principal of a grammar school in St. Louis receives $2,250; in Cincinnati, $2,110; in San Francisco $2,406 per annum. Primary teachers of the lowest class in Boston re- e from $504 to $744 per annum, and in San Francisco $600 to $840 per annum. The ries of head masters in high schools in Boston, $3,780; principal in high school in San ncisco, $4,000. The difference is regarded as not as great as the relative difference in other aries and in cost of maintenance. The total amount paid for teachers' salaries during the fiscal year was $689,485 88, or an average for each enrolled pupil of $18 09. The amount d as salaries of teachers at the high schools, $72,200, or an average charge to the 1,251 pils enrolled of $57 55 each. The average cost for each pupil in the primary schools on ount of salaries paid primary teachers, is about $16 per annum. As a matter of interest connection with the public schools of the city, we give a few extracts from the biennial re- of the State Superintendent, Ezra S. Carr, covering the school years 1878 and 1879. In California had only 227 schools, with an attendance of 13,000, and 26,077 census chil- n; in 1879 it had 2,743 schools, with an attendance of 144,806, and 216,404 census children, increase of 16,337 over the census of 1877. In 1855 teachers were paid $181,906; in 1879 ey were paid $2,285,732 39. Up to the present time the people of California have devoted the cause of education: For public schools, $33,743,819 84; for State Normal School, 66,600, and for the State University about $4,150,000. (The total expense of the School epartment of San Francisco has been $11,075,870 45.) In percentage of average attendance school population California stands ninth among the States, the highest being Massa- usetts, with 72.76, and the lowest Louisiana, with 19,05. Census children attending the ivate schools at any time during the year, 15,432. Percentage of census children enrolled public schools, 66.91; percentage in private schools, 7.04; percentage attending no school, .05; per cent. of children of native born parents, 46.14; per cent. of children who had one reign born parent, 12.68; per cent. of children who are of foreign parents, 41.17; school dis- icts, 1,999; number of male teachers, 1,236; number of female teachers, 6,217; average onthly salaries paid male teachers, $82 13; average paid female teachers, $66 37; new school uses erected, 122; institutes held, 34; cost of institutes, $2,988 22. Total receipts of the hool Department from all sources, State and County apportionments, city and district taxes, c., for 1878, $3,820,661 26; for 1879, $3,653,798 96; State apportionment per census child, 78, $7 67: for 1879. $6 60; county apportionments per census child, 1878, $3 50; 1879, $3 59; tal receipts of all kinds per census child, 1878, $18 59; 1879, $16 84. Total expenditures of e School Department, including salaries, rents, fuel, libraries, apparatus, sites, buildings, rniture, etc., 1878, $3,155,815 27; 1879, $3,010,907 13. Cost of tuition per pupil enrolled public schools, 1879, $14 58. Total current expense per pupil enrolled, 1879, $17 34. Total urrent expense per pupil in daily attendance, 1879, $27 60. Valuation of school property, 79, $6,857,380. By the foregoing it will be seen that San Francisco has about 39 per cent. the enrolled pupils; pays about 33 per cent. of the teachers salaries; has about 35 per cent. the children entitled to school moneys, and owns about 50 per cent. of the school prop- ty of the State. Of the State University the Superintendent says: "The University has ached the ideal standard of its original projectors, with full departments of law and medi- ne, courses or colleges of agriculture, mechanics and engineering, and affiliated colleges of entistry and pharmacy. The foundation of an art college has been laid in the gift of an art llection, with $25,000 in money, to which the State has added an equal sum. The muni- t example of Dr. Toland, in donating the valuable property of the Toland Medical Col- entire to the University, has borne fruit in the ample endowment by Judge Hastings of he law college, and of the dental college by Dr. Cogswell, and of the equally generous gift of D. Bacon for the promotion of the fine arts. The Faculty of the University is composed f gentlemen of unexceptionable ability." Of the Normal School the Superintendent says: has 19 instructors, and the number of its pupils is 548. The training school connected th it has 113 pupils. With the increase of population there will be an increased demand r normal instruction. This should be met, not by establishing other normal schools, but y maintaining annual normal institutes at different points in the State. and by carrying for- d the high school course in towns and cities through another year, especially devoted to etics. This is already done in the Girls' High School at San Francisco, from which three ses of well trained teachers have graduated."

CITY NORMAL SCHOOL.—Superintendent Mann recommends the establishment of a C mal School. New York and Boston have such schools. The Normal Class of this tober 1, 1879) numbers 95, all graduates of the High Schools.

“all over the city.” “The excellent work done in that direction by the Silver S rten, under the skillful management of Miss Catherine Smith, has shown the p of the system, and I believe that to-day the most valuable and effective change n be made in our School Department would be the establishment of at least twenty sim schools under trained and competent teachers.”

COSMOPOLITAN SCHOOLS.—Professor Herbst reports there are four Grammar and three Primary Schools, in which instruction in French and German is given, besides the English course prescribed for all the Common Schools of the city. There are ten special teachers of German and French, whose aggregate salary amounts to $11,700. There are twenty-four Cosmopolitan classes taught by class teachers who hold German or French certificates besides their English ones. Most of the candidates for teachers of German and French are natives of America, and many are unable to give oral instruction, wherefore it is recommended that the examinations should be so conducted that it will be impossible for any one to obtain a certificate who is not able to give an oral lesson in either French or German. The four Grammar Schools in which French and German are taught are the North Cosmopolitan, Hayes Valley, Valencia, and South Cosmopolitan, and the Primary are the Bush Street, Post Street, and South Cosmopolitan.

EVENING SCHOOLS.—Mr. Joseph O'Connor, Principal of Evening Schools, reports the number of pupils enrolled at 2,083, of whom 1834 were boys, and 249 girls. Average daily attendance, 699; average number belonging to Evening Schools, 747. The studies are reading, arithmetic, penmanship, and composition or letter-writing, bookkeeping, drawing, higher mathematics, etc. Under the present rules the Evening Schools commence on the first day of September, and are continued to the first day of May in each year, but the Board has allowed the best classes to remain open to the end of the school year. The Evening Schools were reopened on the same date (July 7, 1879) as the day schools. The result was a convincing proof that they could and should be opened. as well as closed, with the day schools. The average attendance for the first month was 776.3; and the number of classes it was found necessary to organize was 27. The Evening Schools are held at the Lincoln, Mission, and Washington Schools.

CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES.—The new Constitution brings numerous changes in the Public School system. It recognizes evening, technical and normal schools as properly belonging to the Common School system, and makes high schools and cosmopolitan schools practically independent of the State, but dependent upon the city for their establishment and support. “Some have feared,” says Superintendent Mann, “that the withdrawal of State support from the high schools would lead to their abolition. This fear is groundless, as the city by local taxation raises more than six times the amount necessary for their support.” Section 6 of the Constitution, Article IX, says: “The entire revenue derived from the State School Fund and the State School Tax shall be applied exclusively to the support of Primary and Grammar Schools.” The Board of Education (Section 7) will have control of the schools, selecting text-books, direct the examination of teachers, and, unless done by the Legislature, will prescribe the course of studies, which may include all the studies of the high schools. The change in the examination of teachers and the selection of text-books are important.

SCHOOL HOUSES.—The following named school houses were completed during the year: Haight Primary; cost, $22,488 60. Sanchez Street Primary; cost, $16,149 47. Bernal Heights School; cost, $1,192 76, and Ocean House School; cost, $1,401 58. The total number of buildings used by the Department is 73, of which 63 are owned by the city, and 10 rented. Of those owned by the Department, 8 are of brick and 55 are of wood. The amount paid for rented rooms was $7,356 55. Additional demands are made for class rooms, consequent upon the rapid growth of the city. The late Superintendent says there is still need for a four-class building west of Valencia and south of Twentieth streets; a lot and an eight-class building on the west side of Russian Hill; a four-class building on the school lot on the corner of Pine and Scott streets; a four-class building on the school lot near Florida street, on the Potrero; an eight-class building on the West Mission street lot, and a twelve-class building on the Fourth and Clara streets lot. A building of some architectural pretensions should be erected for the Girls' High School, or a mixed High School, on the corner of Page and Gough streets.

Colleges and Private Schools.

Notwithstanding the excellence of the free public schools of the city and State, their exemption from direct cost to the pupil or parent, and the great interest taken in them by the public as the nurse and strength of our free institutions, colleges and private schools of great wealth, popularity, and importance rise and prosper. That such institutions exist, show the great interest taken in educational matters. The public and private systems are rivals, each stimulating the other, and setting examples of enterprise, management, salaries, edifices, progress, and standard of scholarships. There are in San Francisco about one hundred private schools, in which term are included the select school of a few pupils, the seminaries, commercial schools, academies, convent schools, and colleges, with their thousand students. The Census Marshal reported the number of youth attending private and church schools in this city in June, 1879 (not including Chinese) at 7,224, an increase over the preceding year of 673. This increase in number is followed by the increase in buildings, many of the private schools having edifices of great capacity, cost, and grand architectural appearance.

THE SACRED HEART COLLEGE, located on the corner of Eddy and Larkin streets, is a wooden structure of three high stories and basement, and covering a large portion of the block. This is conducted by the "Christian Brothers," under the direction of Brother Genebern. The number of students is 700. The object of this institution is to give a thoroughly Christian and secular education, embracing the classical, scientific, and commercial courses.

THE SACRED HEART PRESENTATION CONVENT is a fine brick building of ample proportions, located at the corner of Taylor and Ellis streets. This is a chartered college by Act of the ...egislature, and empowered to confer graduating certificates. The school is free of charge to ... denominations. It was opened on the 24th of May, 1869, and the number of pupils in...sing, made it necessary to enlarge the building, and in 1870 the portion fronting on Ellis ... was added. St. Ignatius College, located on the west side of Van Ness av ue, and exten as been ayes to Grove streets, ranks among the oldest and most prominent of the colleges ancisco, opening for the reception of students on October 15, 1855. It was incorporated the law of the State April 30, 1859, and empowered to confer degrees and academical The number of students usually in attendance is upwards of 700, with a staff of 24 sors and teachers. The college edifice consists of two main buildings, connected by ious corridors. On the corner of Grove and Van Ness avenue, the first two stories are l for class and lecture-rooms, and the two upper floors as an exhibition hall. The college accommodate twelve hundred students. The church and college combined front two dred and ninety feet on Hayes street, and runs through to Grove street, a depth of two dred and seventy-five feet. It is one of the largest and most magnificent edifices the city tains.

The St. Mary's College, located on the east side of Mission street, or County Road, ut four miles from the City Hall, is represented as in a flourishing condition. It is of the oldest colleges on the coast, and has been under the management of the Christian thers since 1863. During the last year there were about 250 students in attendance.

The University (City) College, Rev. James Matthews, DD., principal, is located on south side of Haight street, between Laguna and Octavia. It was founded in 1859. hough having a nominal connection with the Presbyterian Church, the institution is under ecclesiastical control, and is unsectarian in its character. The course of study present prescribed extends but little further than is needful to fit pupils for entering h advantage a college or university course. The course of study will be extended as ally as the students can be prepared for it, and the trustees can provide the means of intaining a competent Faculty.

The Medical College of the Pacific is located on Haight street, between Laguna and tavia. It is the Medical Department of the University (City) College. The institution s organized in 1858 as the Medical Department of the University of the Pacific, and was nsferred to its present connection in 1870. The professors of the college are mostly experienced and successful teachers, whose interest is strongly enlisted in their work. Several of em bring a large experience, both in this and the old world. Henry Gibbons, Jr., M. D., an. Office, 26 Montgomery street.

The San Francisco Theological Seminary is located at 121 Haight street. This institution was organized by the Synod of the Pacific of the Presbyterian Church, in October, 71, but is open for students of all denominations. The qualifications for admission and the urse of studies are the same as in the oldest and best theological schools in the East. It s a library of over six thousand volumes. The Faculty are: Rev. Drs. Scott, Burrowes, lls and Alexander. Term opens September 1st, and closes May 1st, of each year.

The California College of Pharmacy was incorporated August 7, 1872, and affiliated th the University of California, June 18, 1873. The aim of the institution is to unite the armacists and druggists of the Pacific States in organized efforts to elevate the special educanal standard of the business of the apothecary, by cultivating, improving, and diffusing the inciples and practice of legitimate pharmacy; its collateral branches of science and the arts; e best modes of rendering available medicinal agents, by giving instructions in the same and the art of dispensing, by a series of lectures and practical demonstrations. Lectures are ven for a term of six months, during each year, at the Hall of Academy of Sciences, south est corner of California and Dupont streets.

The Hastings College of the Law.—This institution, which is in connection with, an he der the auspices of the University of California, owes its formation to the munificence udge S. C. Hastings, who endowed it with a free gift of $100,000. The Act of the Legisla establishing the College authorizes the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco to provid able rooms in this city, and makes it mandatory upon the Law Library Association t tend its benefits to the students of the College. It is now located in the building of the fornia Academy of Sciences, southwest corner of California and Dupont streets. The ber of students is one hundred and seventy. The Faculty are: John Le Conte, M. D., L. D., President; John Norton Pomeroy, L.L. D., Professor of Municipal Law; William Platt, D. D., L.L. D, Professor of Ethics and Rules of Morality; S. IVERSITY MOUND COLLEGE, located west of the San Bruno Road, near the county lir conducted under a charter issued in 1863. Besides the elementary and business depai ments, in which the usual preparatory branches are taught, there are well arranged courses Ancient and Modern Languages, Mathematics, Natural and Physical Science, Literatur Logic, and Political Economy. The college has at all times had the confidence and patrona of our best citizens, and its students have been singularly successful in the great colleges of tl East. The institution will soon be removed to Litton Springs, Sonoma County. Three hu dred acres of land and the mineral springs have been purchased, and the necessary buildin are now being erected. The principal is John Gamble, B. A., who is assisted by a competer corps of teachers.

BUSINESS COLLEGES.—Of these there are three, located as follows: Pacific, 320 Post stree Heald's, 24 Post street; and Barnard's, 120 Sutter street. These institutions enjoy a hig reputation, as is attested by the large number of students in attendance, both from the cit and interior. The course of studies embrace bookkeeping, penmanship, mathematics, tele graphy, and others calculated to prepare the student for commercial pursuits.

In addition to the institutions enumerated above, are many private schools of excellen reputation; the most prominent of these are the University School, Trinity School, Urba Academy, Zeitska's Institute, Home Institute, Clarke Institute, Mefret's French and Englis Institute, Academy of Notre Dame, St. Rose Academy, and St. Vincent School.

Libraries.

While other large cities of the United States boasted their great public libraries, wher every citizen, rich or poor, might have access to books and papers of every kin and quality, the people of San Francisco have depended solely upon associations or pri vate corporations, or upon the means which enabled them to supply their own desires. Few young cities, however, contained better libraries than the Mechanics', Mercantile, or Odd Fellows', which, with others of less magnitude, contain an aggregate of near 200,000 volume accessible to the public. These were established early in the history of the city, and have been the pride of the people. In the flush business times they were liberally patronized, and appeared to satisfy the demand. But they were beyond the reach of many, and upon all who availed themselves of their privileges entailed a considerable expense.

THE FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY was organized in 1879. The spirit of the age demands free education, and with free education advances the idea of free reading San Francisco was without a free library. while maintaining one of the noblest systems of free schools in the world. To supply this want, a number of public-spirited citizens, after studying the matter and corresponding with librarians and educators of Eastern cities, presented the subject to the Legislature of 1878, and an Act was passed authorizing the levying of a tax of one mill on the dollar for the support of a free public library whenever the people of a town or city might so elect. The bill was drafted for San Francisco; but many other places desiring to enjoy its benefits, it was made general. Messrs. Henry George, A. S. Halladie, George H. Rogers, John H. Wise, John S. Hager, C. C. Terrell, E. D. Sawyer, Louis Sloss, I. M. Scott, R. J. Tobin, and A. J. Moulder were made Trustees under the Act to establish the Free Public ibrary of San Francisco. The tax levy of 1878 79 provided a sum of $24,000 for the use of e Library; but that was not available until near the close of the fiscal year. Pacific Hall, Bush street, between Kearny and Dupont, was selected for the Library; Albert Hart was de Librarian; $9,456 worth of books purchased, and others donated, and on the evening of ne 7, 1879, the Library was formally opened. At that time the Library contained 6,162 umes—magazines and periodicals not included—with a newspaper department embracing pers from every county of the State, and from all the States and Territories of the Pacific ast. The hall is well supplied with tables and chairs, capable of seating several hundred eople, and in the gallery are the reading stands holding newspapers. The report of the Librarian for the six months ending December 31, gives the following statistics: Books on the shelves in use, 11,892; in transit from England, 1,118; in transit from Germany, 741. Of the number of volumes in the Library, 2,300 are works of fiction, which includes 450 juvenile works. There is not a useless book in the Library, and the Library itself, making allowance for difference in size, is the peer of any free library in the world, and much superior to the average. During the period of 198 days which the report comprehends, the attendance was 132,684, which includes 3,927 ladies, being a daily average of 740, of which fully 10 per cent visit the Library regularly. There has been 119,873 books given out since the Library pened. The newspaper department is separate from the library, having a distinct entrance here are 136 daily and weekly papers, home and foreign, on the files, and the attendance been fully one-third of that upon the library, making the total number of visitors over 000. The work of preparing to open the Library as a free-circulating library is rapidly essing, and will be brought to a conclusion without necessitating the closing of the for a day. It is expected that everything will be in readiness by the fir March etary makes the following statement of expenditures for the period end

Such is the beginning of the Free Public Library of San Francisco. With its few volumes, ted hall, and half-dozen attendants, it has commenced its career of usefulness, and already mands the respect of the public. Now it is a struggle; but so earnest are its managers, so interested in it are the people, that but a few years will elapse before it will take rank ong the great libraries of the country. The free libraries of other cities have generally n founded or assisted by the bequest or donation of men of wealth, who thus secure a rved fame. John Jacob Astor gave $400,000 to found the Astor Library of New York, to ich William B. Astor added $300,000. John Lennox gave $700,000 to found the Lennox. rary also in New York. Walter N. Newbury left $2,000,000 to establish a free public rary in Chicago. Dr. James Rush gave Philadelphia $1,000,000 for the same purpose. hua Bates founded the free public library of Boston in 1852 by a gift of $50,000, adding ,000 afterwards. This now contains 350,000 volumes, or nearly one to each inhabitant of city, the population being 400,000. George Peabody gave $1,400,000 to the city of Baltimore for a free library. A long list of such noble names could be given; and with the great alth of many San Franciscans, we may expect their names to be added to the list in aid the Free Public Library of this city.

THE MERCANTILE LIBRARY was organized in 1853. The depressed state of business pre- ling in San Francisco for two or three years past has been most keenly felt by the libraries. e President of the Mercantile Library reports that "ten years ago the number of members s nearly two thousand; now it is less than twelve hundred. During that time the popula- n of the city has doubled, other libraries have grown up and drawn off some of our mem- s, but, allowing for that, we ought to have now at least three thousand members, for the rcantile Library offers advantages peculiar to itself." There are now in the Library near y thousand volumes, about two thousand being added annually, supplying the place of se lost or destroyed, and steadily increasing the aggregate number. About eighty-five usand volumes are taken out each year, or seventy to each member. The Library building situated on Bush street, between Montgomery and Sansome, and is one of the most elegant l substantial buildings of the city. It was built by the Mercantile Library Association for purpose it is used, of iron and brick, contains three stories, basement, and attic. The sement contains a large hall for lectures, concerts, or exhibitions; the first story the library, erence library, ladies' reading-room, and parlor, and trustees' room. On the second floor the chess, smoking, reading and writing-rooms, museum, and store-room for periodicals. e reading-room contains all the leading magazines, pictorials, and newspapers of the world. e annual income is about $23,000, and the expenses about the same. The terms of su ption are, for entrance-fee one dollar, and three dollars per quarter in advance. Strangers invited to visit the rooms. Alfred E. Whitaker is the present Librarian.

THE ODD FELLOWS' LIBRARY was organized in 1854 and ranks next to the Mercantile in e number of its books, having 36,504 volumes; the number drawn for reading being up- rds of one hundred thousand annually. This is located in the Odd Fellows' Building, 325 ontgomery street, is available only to members of the Order and their families, and is sup- rted by pro-rata assessments on the lodges of the city. The annual expense is about $9,- 0. Members of the Order, other than those located in San Francisco, are admitted to the ivileges of the Library upon the payment of a small subscription. The Librarian, Mr. orge A. Carnes, in his last report says: "This Library is a model of economical manage- nt." He recommends the gradual formation of an Endowment Fund, the annual proceeds which would eventually enable the Library to be self-supporting. "Such a fund," he says, lready in process of accretion; but an increased and more systematic effort will be re- quired before it can be rendered in any perceptible degree effective."

HE MECHANICS' INSTITUTE LIBRARY comprises thirty thousand volumes, among which many scientific and technical works, some three thousand volumes of English Patent Re , and is the depository of the Reports of the Patent Office at Washington. The ann tions to the Library are about one thousand five hundred. Several hundred volumes, ates or damaged, are each year presented to the Library of the State Prison for the

the prisoners. A large number of newspapers, pictorials and magazines, from all p world, are found in its reading rooms, as well as charts, maps, globes, etc. The m ship is near 1,800. The terms of membership are one dollar entrance fee and one do and a half per quarter. The financial condition of the Institute is very favorable, it be entirely free from debt, or having money in its treasury more than sufficient to meet all lia ities, giving its property a net value of $230,000, including the library building and lot, boo furniture, the Mechanics' Pavilion, machinery, etc. The Mechanics' Institute building i fine three-story brick, situated on the south side of Post street, between Montgomery Kearny, having seventy-five feet front. The lower story contains three stores and the m entrance hall. In the upper stories are the library, reading rooms, chess room, offices an hall capable of seating 500 persons. The Library has been greatly assisted by the Indust Fairs held annually by the Institute, which constitute one of the most attractive and popu entertainments given in this city, as is proven by the large attendance and profitable resu These fairs are held in the Mechanics' Pavilion, a large building having a frontage of 200 on Mission street and the same on Market street, by 550 feet in depth. It has a grand cen nave 100 feet wide by 450 feet in length, and surrounded by a spacious gallery 50 feet width. This is the most capacious building in the city, and was designed especially for purpose of holding fairs, but it is admirably adapted for other exhibitions, and frequently so used, adding greatly to the revenue of the Institute. The Fourteenth Annual Exhibit was held in 1879, commencing August 5th, and closing September 13th. The total recei from this Exhibition was $40,040 36; expenses, $22,933 24, leaving a net profit to the In tute of $17,107 12. By such aid is the Library enabled to establish itself and prosper w but a slight tax upon those who avail themselves of its privileges. Horace Wilson is Librarian.

THE LAW LIBRARY was organized in 1865, location, Montgomery Block, corner of Wa ington and Montgomery streets. It contains about twenty thousand volumes of stand legal authorities, decisions, reports, biographical, historical, and miscellaneous works. T Library derives its support from a monthly levy upon its members of $2 50, and a docket $1 from every case begun in the District (or Superior) Courts of this city. From this l source there was received $4,575 the last year. The library is open every day from 9 A. M. 10 P. M. to members, and to State, Federal, and Municipal officers.

THE WORKINGMEN'S FREE LIBRARY was formally organized on the 9th of February, 18 under the auspices of the Workingmen's Party of California, and occupies rooms at 1235 M ket street. By donation and purchase it has 1,000 volumes, with many newspapers and m azines

THE PIONEERS' LIBRARY contains about 3,000 volumes, and numerous magazines, news pers, and pictorials. The pleasant reading-room of the Pioneers is in the building of Society, 808 Montgomery street, and is accessible to all members

THE FRENCH PUBLIC LIBRARY was established by the Ligue Nationale Française, in A gust, 1871, and contains a collection of over 10,000 volumes of French books, being the m valuable library of works in that language in the United States. It is open every aftern and evening, except Sunday. Any person acceptable to the Board of Trustees can have cess to the reading-room by paying a monthly fee of $2 50.

THE SAN FRANCISCO VEREIN is a German Social Club occupying rooms on the corner Sutter and Dupont streets. The Club maintains a large and well selected library of 20,(volumes, embracing the works of the most eminent German writers.

THE MILITARY LIBRARY was organized in January, 1873, for the purpose of acquiri reserving, and conducting a public library composed of books and periodicals of a milit character. This institution derives its support from the sales of shares at $5 each. Memb may use as many books at a time as they hold shares. There are no dues, but the Trust have power to call for $5 additional upon each share when they deem it necessary.

THE SCHOOL LIBRARIES of the Public Schools number 42, with an aggregate of 12,717 v umes, value, $9,302. These are accessible to all pupils, and supply a fund of reading mat of the most valuable class, and are located at convenient points throughout the city. T Academy of Sciences, Territorial Pioneers, B'nai B'rith the Young Men's Christian Assoc tion, and numerous private schools and societies have libraries aggregating many thousands volumes.

Health of the City.

The conditions of location and climate insure to San Francisco a higher degree of hea and exemption from known epidemics than is vouchsafed to most other large cities of world. Situated upon a narrow, rocky, and hilly peninsula, with the broad Pacific on west, and the capacious bay and straits of Golden Gate on the east and north, with th swiftly flowing tides, keep its surroundings washed and pure, while the prevailing win through the warm, dry summer pour freely upon it, from their long sweep over the oc re it has gathered the elements of health, uncontaminated by the malaria of dying vege or the miasmatic poisons of inhabited lands. Nature having thus provided, it has been to preserve a high order of health; and, indeed, it were criminal in the extreme, and a upon our boasted civilization, should our city show a large percentage of mortality, or excessive sickness.

The report of the Health Officer, Dr. J. L. Meares, for the fiscal year 1878–9, says: "Estimating our population at 305,000, as given in Langley's Directory, the annual ratio of deaths per 1,000 population is 14.75—the lowest per cent. of mortality as yet attained—against 16.59 of the preceding year, and 20.56 for the year 1876–7." This is in great contrast with the death rate of some of the British cities, which recent reports give—of London, 3½ in 1,000; Edinburgh, 22½; Glasgow, 25, and Dublin, 29½. In United States cities: New York, 24.93; Baltimore, 21.53; Chicago, 16.50; Philadelphia, 17.96; Boston, 21½; St. Louis, 12. The high rate for 1876–7 was caused by the prevalence of the small-pox and diptheria, as contagious. The difficulty of controlling the quarters of the Chinese, who number about one-twelfth of the population, and herd densely together in defiance of the laws of health, largely increase the rate of percentage, to the great detriment of our statistics and our good name. Incomplete sewerage, in parts of the city built upon low or reclaimed lands, has also added its quota to the death rate.

During the fiscal year there were 4,493 deaths, against 4,977 of the year preceding—a decrease of 484. The total number of deaths from zymotic causes, such as bad ventilation, bad sewerage, uncleanliness, etc., in the main considered preventable, was 743, against 1,027 the preceding year. The ratio of deaths from zymotic causes, to the total mortality, was 16.5, against 20.6 of last year. This is a very gratifying result, and is undoubtedly due to the obliteration of stagnant pools, the vacating of houses unfit for human habitation, the abatement of a large number of nuisances, and other acts in a great measure caused by the Sanitary Inspectors authorized by law. The improved health of the Eleventh Ward is a striking evidence of the benefit to be derived from the filling in of pools of stagnant water. Only one case of small-pox was reported during the year. The Health Officer calls the attention of the proper officers to the necessity of the daily enforcement of the much-abused "cubic-air ordinance," as it would aid greatly to relieve the crowded quarters of "Chinatown," which now constitutes a moral and social plague spot in the heart of the city.

The necessity of the Quarantine, and the rigid enforcement of its rules, are strongly urged. No contagious diseases have entered the city by sea during the year. Fifteen Chinamen afflicted with leprosy were discovered in Chinatown, and after a short stay at the Small-pox Hospital were sent to China. Of the 4,493 deaths, 523 were Chinese; and of the 385 deaths from unknown causes, 346 of these were of the same people. There were 215 deaths by violence; 194 whites, and 21 Chinese. Of the violent deaths, 85 were by suicide; 6 being Chinese, and 20 homicides. Under 1 year of age, there were 943 deaths, including 14 Chinese. From diseases of the respiratory organs, there were 499 deaths (not including Chinese), of which 324 were attributed to pneumonia, 69 to bronchitis, and 39 to congestion of the lungs. Cancer, in its various forms, caused the death of 116. Phthisis pulmonalis (consumption) was the cause of 563 deaths, not including Chinese. The expenses of the office for the fiscal year were $20,265 99.

Hospitals.

San Francisco has provided with great care and liberality for its sick and unfortunate. The hospitals, both public and private, are well appointed and numerous. Like other charities, asylums, schools, and institutions of a high and generous civilization, they have been objects of pride to the people, and various societies, denominations and nationalities have established them and excelled in their various appointments and comforts.

THE UNITED STATES MARINE HOSPITAL is located far from the center of population and business, being on the Presidio Reservation, near Mountain Lake, about four miles from the Custom House. The location, if isolated and difficult of access, is exceedingly pleasant and healthy, and well adapted for the purpose of a sanitarium. The hospital is established on the pavilion plan, being a series of frame buildings for the various purposes. They were completed and occupied in May, 1875, and consist of an executive building two stories in height, two long one-story buildings, one on each side of the executive building, and of three one-story wards radiating from the rear of the main building, with a separate residence for the surgeon.

THE CITY AND COUNTY HOSPITAL ranks as the most complete and extensive of the city, and its superior is seldom seen. The location is in the southern part of the city, and is best reached from the business portions via Market and Valencia, or the parallel streets to Twenty-second street and Potrero avenue, or via Ninth street and Potrero avenue. The grounds comprise two blocks, and including Utah street, bounded by Potrero avenue on the west, Nebraska street on the east, Sierra street on the north, and Nevada street on the south, measuring 866 feet north and south, by 481 feet east and west, or nearly ten acres of The site is sufficiently elevated for drainage, and, with street cars running near, and lines projected, making access easy, it is very eligibly situated for the purpose. consists of several buildings, connected by a covered corridor. The individual structures a the administrative building and dining hall, each three stories high; the kitchen and laundr the chapel, the gate house, operating rooms, morgue, stable, and numerous pavilions, each t stories high, and each intended to accommodate sixty-four patients and their nurses. All a of wood, on brick foundations, excepting the kitchen and laundry, which are entirely brick. The design of the hospital is to have twelve pavilions, built in pairs, opposite ea other, on either side of the long corridor and parallel to the main building, each pair one hu dred feet from the other. The average number of patients in the hospital during the fis year 1878-9, was 380, and of employees, 42. The number admitted during the year w 3,174, of whom 2,702 were males and 472 females. There were 64 births and 343 deaths. T total expenditure for the year, excepting drugs, was $70,759 14, and for drugs, $8,459 7 The net cost of all articles of subsistence was $27,377 16; making the cost of subsistence f each inmate for the year, $64 87; and the daily average cost of subsistence for each office employee and patient, 17¾ cents. Salaries constitute the largest item of expenditure, aggr gating $31,342. Dry-goods, building material, fuel, ice, etc., making up the balance.

THE ALMS HOUSE, though not precisely a hospital, is one of our eleemosynary institution and comes most appropriately under this head. This is situated on the San Miguel Ranch about five miles, by the traveled road, from the new City Hall, and was opened on the 12 of September, 1867. The structure has a frontage of 187 feet, is four stories high, and h capacity for comfortably lodging 500 inmates; but the superintendent, M. J. Keating, recom mends the addition of a new wing to the main building, as the increase in the number patients will make the same necessary in the near future. The buildings and premises a kept in excellent condition, and the comfort and well-being of the inmates provided for. great saving has been effected in the purchase of supplies, by discarding the per capita syste of contracts and adopting the segregated system—the saving amounting to $68,993 in the la five years. For the past year the cost of food was $24,608 27, and a total expenditure $59,237 07. The daily average of inmates and employees being 504, the daily cost for the was 13⅓ cents, or 9 5-12 cents less than under the per capita system, and a saving of $17,322 for the year. Upon reference to the City and County Auditor's Report for the fiscal yea 1869-'70 it will be seen that the total expense of the Alms House, with an average of 2 inmates, was $61,023 19, showing a decrease of $1,786 12, with more than double the numbe of inmates. During the year the road through the Alms House grounds, leading from th Golden Gate Park to the Ocean House Road, has been widened and graded by the inmate the gates removed, etc., making it one of the finest drives in the county. Two hundred tre have been set out, adding greatly to the beauty of the place and grounds. Sufficient hay an vegetables were raised upon the farm to supply the wants of the place. The potato cro however, was entirely destroyed by blight, causing a loss of $3,000. About one-half of thos who have become inmates of the Alms House in the past nine years had not been residents the city and county for thirty days, coming from other parts of the State, or arriving by se from other lands. From the opening of the institution to the date of the last report, 5,65 persons have been admitted and received its benefits. The number of inmates, June 30, 187 was 511; daily average number, 481. During the year, 505 were admitted; 341 were dis charged at their own request; 2 were sent to the Insane Asylum; 47 died, and 37 ran away The Alms House farm, including all the grounds, roads, etc., comprises an area of 80 acre and all that is available is cultivated by the labor of the inmates, who also perform muc other work.

THE TWENTY-SIXTH STREET, OR SMALL-POX HOSPITAL, another of the city's beneficen institutions, was constructed at the time of the small-pox epidemic in 1869, and is situated o the corner of Colusa and De Haro streets. During the year, 24 patients have been admitte only one, however, being afflicted with varialoid. With a single exception the patients we Mongolians, fifteen of whom, afflicted with leprosy, were shipped to China, June 2, 187 There were 5 inmates, June 30, 1879.

THE CITY RECEIVING HOSPITAL,—which does not deserve the name of hospital—is in th basement of the old City Hall, a dim apartment, capable of receiving only seven patients one time, and is but a part of the prison. The number of patients attended during the ye was 1,002, not, generally, prisoners, but persons meeting with accidents on the streets, sudden sickness. Of the number received, 34 died.

THE GERMAN HOSPITAL, occupies a commanding site on the eastern slope of Buena Vis Hill; the grounds comprising the block bounded by Ridley street on the north, Noe street the east, Fourteenth street on the south, and Castro street on the west, are well improve with drives and walks, and thickly planted with trees, shrubs and flowers of many varietie evincing the taste which attracts the observer, cheers the invalid and comforts the convalescen The hospital building consists of a large central body, three stories in height, with two win two stories, and is capable of accommodating 300 patients. The corner stone was lai appropriate ceremonies, in August, 1877, and the hospital was formally opened Februa 78. The cost was a little over $200,000. It is designed primarily for the benefit bers to its support, being under the control of the German General Bene Societ

E French Hospital, or "Maison de Sante," is under the control of t aise de Bienfaisance Mutuelle," organized in 1851, and numbering sever ers. The building is a large two-story brick structure, occupying the center of a hun- vara lot on Bryant street, between Fifth and Sixth, and is capable of accommodating 270 ents. The grounds are well laid out, and ornamented with flowers and shrubbery. As at er society hospitals, all classes are received upon the payment of moderate fees, usually m $2 to $3 per day.

The Italian Hospital, located on the block bounded by Noe, Castro, Twenty-fifth and enty-sixth streets, is a fine two-story brick, with accommodations for forty patients. This s erected in 1868 by the Italian Benevolent Society, for the use of its members and others.

The St. Mary's Hospital, occupies a pleasant site on the southern slope of Rincon Hill, a hundred vara lot on the southwest corner of First and Bryant streets. This is a large commodious brick structure, erected in 1861; is four stories in height, and measures enty-five by one hundred and fifty feet on the ground. In the wards and rooms are beds ver 100 patients. The hospital is under the charge of the Sisters of Mercy, who also intain, adjoining it, a Home for aged and infirm females. This is a building of wood, ee stories high, fronting on Rincon Place.

The St. Luke's Hospital, on San José avenue, between Twenty-seventh and Twenty- hth streets, is a large, well-appointed building, on the cottage plan, designed more espec- ly for the poor of the Episcopal parishes, but receiving patients of all denominations. It s built in 1874, and will accommodate from thirty to forty patients.

The California State Woman's Hospital, is located on the corner of Howard and elfth streets, and is specially devoted to the treatment of diseases peculiar to women. It pen to all, of whatever creed or nationality. All who are able are expected to pay a derate fee, but those who are destitute are equally provided for. Out patients are treated tuitously by the house physician. Organized May, 1868. Incorporated January, 1873.

The San Francisco Female Hospital is located at 930 Clay street, and was opened for tients April 1, 1868. The object of the institution is the care of poor, sick women. Any man who is poor and sick is entitled to share its benefits. It is a general hospital for all eases, and for lying-in. The support is derived from voluntary contributions, bequests, d a State appropriation of $3,000 per annum. This is a pure charity, and has proven of eat benefit to the poor and unfortunate. A large number of outside cases are treated tuitously.

The San Francisco Lying-in Hospital and Foundling Asylum, located at 913 Tyler eet, is, as expressed in its articles of incorporation, for the care, protection and proper atment of respectable married women and unprotected single women, with their off- ring, together with all other children who may be left in infancy by outside parties. This available to all women throughout the State, it only being asked that each applicant give tisfactory proof of having previously sustained a good reputation and been deemed spectable. No cases of disease are admitted. Those who can are expected to pay. The stitution is supported by receipts from patients, donations, legacies, city and State appro- iations, etc. The late Michael Reese bequeathed it $20,000, the receipt of which was cently acknowledged by the Board of Trustees by appropriate resolutions.

The Pacific Dispensary for Women and Children is a charity under the charge of fluential and benevolent ladies, who have constructed a home, three stories in height, on the rner of Mission and Twenty-second streets, admirably adapted for the purpose. The object the organization is the care of sick women and children. A free dispensary, at 937 Market reet, is connected with the institution.

he Chinese Hospital, on the east side of Montgomery avenue, between Pacific and adway, provides for such of that race as desire to avail themselves of it.

Manufactures.

San Francisco is constantly progressing as a manufacturing city, notwithstanding the ailing high rates of interest, high rents, high rates of labor, high-priced fuel, and other cles against which it has to contend, that favor the great manufacturing centers of the d. Here, however, are raw material, skill, necessity, fuel measurably reduced in price ompetition and cheap inward freight, and the additional advantage of protection afforded ur long distance from other manufacturers. The most recent statistics, those of th ssor, as shown by the last annual report, place the value of manufactured articles for t eding year at $59,289,000, against $53,432,492 for the year 1877 an increase of $5,856, a consequence of the prevailing hard times and a general decrease of es, with Banking and Finance.

The Bank Commissioners in their report to the Legislature, dated February 9, 18 furnish the following information in reference to the banks of this State: Fifty-eight co mercial banks and twenty-four savings banks reported their financial condition on the morn of January 1, 1880, making a total of eighty-two banks. In the previous year there were n National Gold Banks, and nine private banks of which no report is given. Excluding the the total resources of all the banks of the State aggregate $122,389,718 01. Money on ha $15,654,912 12. Due depositors by commercial banks, $29,579,435 28, and by savings ban $51,864,903 59; total due, $81,444,338 87. Insurance.

The year 1879 was a fortunate one with California Underwriters. No great conflagrat have occurred to exhaust the treasuries of the Fire Companies, nor losses by sea to wreck Marine, nor contagion or epidemic to weaken the Life Insurance. There were one hun and three companies doing business in the State at the close of the year, and three new have since been organized. Of the 106 companies, 11 are California companies, and Eastern and foreign. Twelve are Life Insurance Companies. The seven California panies doing a general business have a paid up capital of $2,250,000; had risks in fo ecember 31, 1879, amounting to $60,599,084 86, upon which the premiums were $838, e losses paid for the year were $264,912. The dividends aggregated $324,500. The Insurar mpany paid at the rate of 17 per cent., or $51,000; Commercial, 12

Meteorological Observations made at San Francisco, from Nov., 1850, to Jan. 1880.

BY HENRY GIBBONS, SR., M.D.

In the following tables the reader will find, in a condensed form, the results of twenty-nine years' diligent observation of the climate of San Francisco, with more particular reference to rain.

Rain has fallen in every month of the year. In July it has rained only in two years; August has furnished rain in five years; June in eight years; September in fourteen years; October in twenty-one years. No account is made of a mere sprinkle, nor of the deposit of summer mist. The greatest quantity of mist which ever falls in twenty-four hours is about three hundredths of an inch. But this quantity is very rare. Near the ocean the mist is much more copious.

The driest season was 1850–51, which gave only seven inches. Next to that was 1863–6 with eight and one-half inches. The winter of 1867–68 gave the most rain—forty inche The average is between twenty-one and twenty-two inches.

The earliest setting in of the rainy season was October 8; the latest, January 12. A early beginning and an abundant supply are apt to go together, but there is no rule in thi respect—the latest beginnings have been followed by an average supply.

The average date of the beginning of the rainy season is November 28; of the termination, April 10. March is as certain to bring rain in liberal amount as any other month. In one year out of every three there is no rain of importance after March. The last showers of the season come, with remarkable uniformity, about the third week of May.

The middle of Jauuary is the average dividing point of the rainy season. The mean quantity before January 1 is about equal to the mean quantity after January 31.

December gives the greatest average quantity; January is not far behind; February, March, and November come next, and are nearly alike; then April, May, and October, in the order named. The mean annual supply for twenty-nine years is 22 inches.

The greatest amount of rain in any one month was in January, 1862, when there fell the enormous quantity of eighteen inches.

The most extraordinary summer rain was in June, 1875, when 1.11 inches fell during a southerly storm which lasted several days. That this was an anomaly is made apparent by the fact that in the three summer months during twenty-nine years the whole quantity of rain, collectively, deducting this, was less than two inches.

It is worthy of note that in the driest seasons there has been an abundant supply for agricultural purposes, had it been distributed evenly. Three inches in December, with one inch in each of the four following months, would produce full crops.

The rain table of San Francisco may be made the basis for estimating the fall in other parts of the State. The mountains of the north have from two to three times as much, and the southern section of the State about half as much, or even much less in some localities. The valley of the Sacramento has nearly the same quantity as San Francisco; that of the San Joaquin only half as much in the northern section, and still less in the southern.

By reference to the tables showing the extremes of heat and cold, it appears that the coldest weather was in January, 1854, when the mercury fell to 25°. At that time the mud the streets was frozen solid, and the shallow ponds were covered with ice strong enough or boys to skate on. But such weather is extremely rare, though since that time the groun has been frozen several times so as not to thaw fully in the shade for several days. T ldest noonday embraced in the record was 37°. Often the entire winter passes by wit ringing the thermometer so low as the freezing point. In 1853 it fell at no time belo

The extreme of heat was on the tenth and eleventh of September, 1852, when t

ached 97° and 98° on the two days, respectively. This, however, was entirel nal, and might not occur again in half a century; the air was dry as a sirocco, an the woodwork of houses to crackle audibly, and the plaster to break on the woode ith the exception just noted, the hottest day was June 11, 1877—94°. Next come Jul 6, 1867, and June 12, 1876—93°. The temperature reached 91° on six days, viz: once i October, 1864, once in September, 1865, once in June 1872, once in June, 1877, and twic in September, 1877. In July, 1865, it was 90°. It appears, therefore, that there were bu twelve days in twenty-seven years, when the temperature reached 90°.

The table of mean temperature shows that our summer does not come till the summe months have passed by. September is the warmest month in the year, and October next then comes August; July, the hottest month elsewhere, is the fourth here, or links wit June; next come April and May; then March and November; then February, and, finally January and December, which are the only winter months, if indeed we have any weathe that deserves the name of winter.

Twice the ground has been covered with snow. On the twenty-ninth of December 1856 it snowed very fast for several hours, and two or three inches gathered, but it melted before night. On the twelfth of January, 1868, it snowed fast before day, so that two inche collected. But it disappeared before sunrise, so that few persons enjoyed the rare spectacle

The extraordinany evenness of the climate depends on the adjacent ocean, the water o which, flowing in a current from the north, is always at a temperature of about 54°, summe and winter. The sea breeze of summer, which chills the air at noonday, leaves no place for hot nights. There is not, on an average, one night in the year when it is warm enough to sit out of doors at midnight with comfort.

PUBLIC STREETS, AVENUES, SQUARES, PLACES

OF THE CONSOLIDATED

CITY OF SAN FRANCISCO,

IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE OFFICIAL MAPS, 1868, 1870, AND 1872.

EXPLANATORY.—The Ordinance for re-numbering the buildings of this city provides that "Market Street shall be th starting point for the numbers of all buildings fronting on the streets running therefrom in a northerly direction, and als for those running therefrom in a southeasterly direction. The streets laid down in the official map of the city as formin the water front thereof shall be the starting point for numbers on all streets running westerly and southwesterly there from, except upon such streets running westerly commencing from Market Street, and upon all such streets, Marke Street shall be the starting point for numbers. On all streets the numbers on the right hand side, starting from the poin of beginning, are even numbers, and on the left hand side, odd numbers. One hundred numbers, or as many thereof a may be necessary, shall be allotted to each block bounded by principal streets; numbers 100, 200, and 300 being respect ively the numbers for commencing the blocks distant one, two, and three streets from the starting point on the sid designated for even numbers, and numbers 101, 201, and 301, in similar manner for the opposite side of the street throughout its extent; so that the initial figure of the number placed on a building at any street-crossing shall indicat the number of main streets such street-crossing is from the starting point. Not less than twenty feet in frontage of a vacant lots of ground shall be allowed for each number. On all cross or intermediate streets the numbering shall com mence where said streets begin, and shall conform to the plan specified in this Order."

By this new decimal system of numbering buildings, the exact location of any number is readily ascertained; fo example, if you want to find 624 Montgomery, it is on the east side of the block extending from Clay to Washington which is the seventh from Market—Commercial and Merchant being private streets. Again, 825 Clay is on the nint block from the water front, which is the one extending from Dupont to Stockton. It must be borne in mind that on hundred numbers are allowed on each block between principal streets.

The following streets are but partially opened, and each differ materially from the plan originally laid out, viz Clementina, Ecker, Jessie, Minna, Natoma, Ritch, Shipley, Stevenson, and Tehama.

The territory lying west of Laurel Hill and Odd Fellows' Cemetery, and generally known as the Outside Lands, has recently been surveyed, and is designated on the new official City and County Map as avenues and streets. Those running north and south are named respectively from First to Forty-ninth avenues, and those running east and west, from First avenue to the Ocean, and parallel with Point Lobos Avenue, A to W streets.

Reference is frequently made in the Register of Names to the following, and which are located as follows: Hoadley's Addition, situated west of Pierce and between Geary and Washington; Horner's Addition, south and near the Mission Dolores; Western Addition, west of Larkin; San Miguel Ranch, southwest and near the Mission Dolores; Bernal Heights (B. H.), south of Twenty-sixth Street, between San Bruno and San José Roads; and University Mound Tract (U. M. T.), west of San Bruno Road, five miles from the City Hall. See, also, Prominent Places, end Street Directory.

(b) Street not opened. (c) Fractional blocks, one hundred numbers allowed for first two blocks. (d) Fronting the bay. (e) Street ends. (——) Street does not cross. B. H., Bernal Heights. U. M. T., University Mound Tract. S. S. F., South San Francisco. A blank is used where the number at the crossing of a street could not be ascertained.
